Grand Jury Hears State Treasury Graft Charges

$2,000,000 SUIT FOR INTEREST, BRUNDAGE PLAN

Miller First Witness at Capital.

Springfield, Ill., July 11.—[Special.]—Civil suits on behalf of the state to recover interest on public funds which, compounded, may reach a total of more than $2,000,000, are to be filed by Attorney General Edward J. Brundage, it was learned tonight.

This is to be supplementary to the grand jury proceedings now in progress.

The suits will be directed against Gov. Len Small, Lieut. Gov. Fred E. Sterling, or State Auditor Andrew Russel of all three, depending on the evidence uncovered by the Sangamon county grand jury which began its investigation of the state treasurer's office today.

State Treasurer Testifies.

The only witness to testify today was State Treasurer Edward E. Miller. His testimony is said to have dealt entirely with the $10,000,000 loan to the "Grant Park bank," alleged to have been a "paper bank," formed to transfer the money as a loan to Chicago packers, and his efforts to trace interest totaling approximately $650,000 a year. Although no blame attaches to the packers in connection with the transaction, subpoenas have been issued for certain officers of Armour & Co. and Swift & Co., who are expected to testify here Wednesday.

Curtis Called Today.

Verne S. Curtis, a brother of the late Edward C. Curtis, and Ernest B. Griffin, officials of the Grant Park Trust and Savings bank, an institution located near Kankakee, are expected to testify tomorrow.

Other witnesses will be Harry Luehrs, chief clerk in the treasurer's office; Harry Freeman, chief clerk in the state auditor's office, and Director of Finance Omar Wright.

Mr. Miller's testimony, supported by documentary evidence, is said to have had to do with the finding of the $10,000,000 deposit memorandum in his office when he took charge the first of the year and with his efforts to trace the interest on this money.

Alleged Outline of Evidence.

As far as could be learned tonight, the following facts have been brought out:

The $10,000,000 was loaned to the "Grant Park bank" by a former state treasurer. Certificates of deposit bearing the inscription "Grant Park Bank, E. F. and V. S. Curtis, Proprietors," were all that were turned into the state treasurer's office at the time. The money was used by the "Grant Park bank" to purchase $4,500,000 in short term notes of Swift & Co., and $5,500,000 of notes of Armour & Co.

The rate of interest on these securities was 7 per cent, but the paper was purchased at a figure far enough below par to make the rate 8½ per cent.

When Miller refused to accept the certificates of deposit from Sterling the securities were turned over to him, and the state since that time, it is said, has received the full interest.

Large Sums Not Accounted For?

Efforts of Treasurer Miller to check up on the interest disclosed, it is said, that the state received only 2 per cent interest on the money, and it has not been definitely established whether it received even that amount for the full time the loan was outstanding. Granting that the 2 per cent was turned in, there would be $650,000 a year still to be accounted for on the 8½ per cent basis.

The notes turned in to Mr. Miller were made out for a two year period, it is said, but it is reported they had been renewed and that the loan was outstanding for at least four years, if not longer.

The witnesses from the packing concerns in Chicago are expected to clear up this point as well as that of who collected the full interest. If the notes ran over a four year period, the interest not accounted for would run into a total of $3,600,000. If they ran only two years, there remains half that amount to be collected. The civil suits will ask the return of all the interest, with compound interest added for all the time it was in private hands.

Identity of "Grant Park Bank."

Verne Curtis, brother of the late Senator Curtis, and Mr. Griffin are expected to clear up definitely whether or not a "Grant Park bank" exists or whether, as the state contends, it was merely a bank on paper without building or

MRS. ETTA HEIL KIDNAPS HER 2 BABIES; SEIZED

Taken Near Old Home; Freed by Husband.

Mrs. Etta Perry Heil, wife of a millionaire broker, arrested several weeks ago as the "burglar maid" who had abstracted $90,000 worth of loot from numerous north side homes, was captured last night by the police after she had kidnaped her two children, Joseph, 5 years old, and Frances, 2, from the family home at 6169 Winthrop avenue.

Mrs. Heil was taken to the Summerdale police station. After being questioned by her husband, Joseph Heil, and Lieut. William Shoemaker she was released. As a result of the affair, three policemen will receive a reward of $500. The children were unhurt.

Secluded in Suburb Home.

Immediately after her arrest on May 20 Mrs. Heil was taken to Lake View hospital for treatment, being released on $10,000 bonds. She later appeared in the Sheffield avenue court and was placed on probation on nine counts of larceny.

Her husband had returned all the articles alleged to have been stolen and, in addition, had paid back nearly $60,000 in cash, the value of missing property, as estimated by the victims.

Then Mrs. Heil was released from Lake View and a home was rented for her in Maywood. Her clothes and all her personal property were sent out to her and she agreed to live there. Mr. Heil engaged two nurses for the children, who remained at the home on Winthrop avenue.

About two weeks ago, neighbors of Mr. Heil declare, she made her reappearance in the neighborhood. One day she talked to Beecher Lyda, Negro janitor, it is said, and purchased from him a key to a vacant apartment next door to her former residence.

Last night she appeared again while Mr. Heil was at a nearby restaurant for dinner. The nurses were eating dinner at the house.

Mrs. Heil entered at the back door and walked to the nursery, where the children were asleep. She woke them, took one in each arm, and left the house via the front door with them. She walked about fifty feet to the corner, rounded it, and took the children to the vestibule of the vacant house.

Husband Offers $500 Reward.

There, concealed from passersby, she waited for the darkness and a chance to escape. When Mr. Heil returned the nurses already had found the children gone. He called Main 1313—the new police call—and offered a reward of $500 for their return and her arrest.

Then he began the search around his home. E. G. Kohlburg, who lives above the vacant flat, had seen Mrs. Heil with the two babies, who were in their night clothes. He motioned to Mr. Heil that she was in the vestibule. The Summerdale police station was then called. Policemen Short, McAlerney, and Kurgsman responded.

They walked into the vestibule and found the woman. She offered no resistance and was taken to the station. The children were sent back to bed.

Mrs. Heil Assails Husband.

While in the station Mrs. Heil talked almost incessantly. She told her husband he "had abused her in every manner possible"—that "he had driven her to the depths of disgrace"; that he had "called her a thief." In answer he showed stubs on $60,000 in checks he had paid out. Her talk became hysterical after a while.

Then came the question of the charge against her. Her husband thought a moment. She was then on probation—if another charge was filed she would go to jail. He refused to prosecute. She was released.

The children will be taken from the city, Mr. Heil declared, until a contemplated divorce is granted.

SHE WAS A DULL bachelor woman, she told herself, impatiently; half-past temptation, and growing into an old maid with a hundred weaknesses and no grand vice—until she looked full into the wicked eyes of

RULING FAVORS STILLMAN; HITS "FIFI" AND BABY

Banker Upheld in 7 of 9 Contentions.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 11.—[Special.]—Surrogate Daniel J. Gleason, referee in the James A. Stillman divorce and legitimacy action, this evening handed down a decision, ruling on nine points of law raised by Col. William Rand of counsel to the banker.

The findings of the referee, final and subject to reversal only upon appeal to the higher courts, were regarded as a distinct victory for the banker.

Mr. Gleason, after a study of all the evidence thus far presented, sustained seven of the nine points raised by Col. Rand; and, according to one authority, virtually concluded that the banker had proven that he could not have been the father of baby Guy Stillman.

May Upset Ruling.

This view, however, may be upset when the defense later presents evidence to show that the banker and his wife had lived under one roof.

The judgment of the referee, given to newspaper men here with the consent of all the attorneys in the case, restored to the record of the case one damaging bit of evidence against Mrs. Stillman—the "Dearest Honey" letter of May 20, 1919, from Fred Beauvais to Mrs. Stillman, known in the suit as exhibit B and exhibit 12. The return of this communication to the record was a reversal of a previous Gleason ruling.

The referee's rulings also made a permanent part of the case the "rolled oats and bacon" letter, dated Feb. 11, 1919, which, up to now, was in the record only on "the basis of present proof."

The nine points of law were presented in typewritten form to Referee Gleason by Col. Rand several days after the last Poughkeepsie hearing. As they came from the referee tonight, the wording of the nine was practically the same—except that alongside the sustained points the word "admitted" appeared.

This notation did not appear beside points 2 and 3, since there was apparently no question of decision to be made on these—both of them being merely statements of fact by Col. Rand.

Rulings of Referee.

Referee Gleason's rulings follow:

1—The direct declarations as to the paternity of the infant made by the adult defendant and the co-respondent, Beauvais, though divorce originally offered upon both issues, were withdrawn as to the issue of legitimacy at the last hearing.—Admitted.

2—If there is in the record any direct declaration as to the paternity of the infant, that, too, is withdrawn upon the issue of legitimacy.—No notation.

3—The declarations of the adult defendant as to the paternity of the infant made to Dr. Russell in April, 1918, at Buffalo, also her declaration to Dr. Russell that Beauvais was responsible for her condition, received on the issue of adultery have been stricken out.—No notation.

The Damaging Letter.

"4—Exhibit 12, being a letter of Beauvais, written in May, 1919, being retained in the possession of the adult defendant after she had received and acted upon the receipt of exhibits 13-A and 13-B, and to be taken in connection with all the evidence in the case of disposition, opportunity, and commission of adultery. The receipt and rejection of exhibit 12 is offered upon the issue of legitimacy as conduct (following evidence of non-access on the part of the husband) indicating the paternity of the infant.—Admitted.

5—Exhibits 13-A and 13-B are offered upon both issues. They are offered against the adult defendant on the issue of adultery. The letter was written in February, 1919. Its receipt was acknowledged to Irene Kelly, and the adult defendant acted upon it by sending for the rolled oats and by keeping and cherishing the moccasins and by subsequent conduct with the writer.—Admitted.

Beauvais' Views Barred.

6—Exhibits 13-A and 13-B, are offered upon the issue of legitimacy as conduct (following evidence of non-access by the husband) of the mother bearing upon the paternity of the child. From this offer on the issue of legitimacy is excluded any direct or indi-

CANUCK FAIRIES LOVE HOP FIELDS, LECTURER SAYS

Montreal, Quebec, July 11.—[Special.]—Fairies have been seen in Canada. This amazing assertion is made by E. Taylor, a Vancouver student of the occult, who declares his province is the happy hunting ground of the little people, whom he describes as being of most beautiful and dazzling colors.

The lecturer amazed his audience by saying there were fairies in many parts of Canada, but British Columbia seemed to be more thickly inhabited. Several of the colonies of elves were of a beautiful silvery green color.

One bright blue tribe lived in the Chilliwack valley, eighty miles from Vancouver, their activities extending over a considerable stretch of country, though they seemed to center chiefly in the neighborhood of the hop fields.

SATURNALIA SUIT OPENS IN BOSTON

Case Involves Big Film Men, Bribes, Girls.

Boston, Mass., July 11.—A midnight frolic of four years ago at Mishawum manor, a roadhouse in Woburn, said to have been conducted by a woman known as "Brownie Kennedy," whose guests included several motion picture producers, was described today at the hearing on a petition for the removal of Nathan A. Tufts, district attorney of Middlesex county.

The hearing, resulting from charges preferred by Attorney General Allen, who alleges, among other things, that Tufts was concerned in a conspiracy by which the motion picture men paid $100,000 to escape prosecution threatened on account of their presence at the Mishawum dinner party, is being held before the full bench of the Supreme court, with five justices sitting.

Former Mayor Mentioned.

James M. Curley, who at the time of the dinner was mayor of Boston, was mentioned with several others in a deposition made by Hiram Abrams, one of the motion picture men, but no charge of conspiracy was made against him.

The affair at Mishawum manor took place, according to the charge, on March 6, 1917. It followed a dinner to "Fatty" Arbuckle held at the Copley Plaza hotel in this city. About twenty or twenty-five persons were present at the Woburn party, Abrams said in his deposition, and there were ten or twelve women at the house. The company remained from midnight until about 4 a. m. The bill for the dinner there amounted to $1,050, and Abrams said he paid it.

Boston Lawyer Involved.

Daniel H. Coakley, a Boston attorney, who had been brought into the case after a conference at the Hotel Touraine on Mr. Abrams' arrival, had telephoned District Attorney Tufts asking for an interview, Abrams said.

The meeting took place at Tufts' office in the Cambridge courthouse, Coakley telling the district attorney that they had come to discuss "that drunken affair at Woburn," and that if he could prove the men were innocent he hoped Mr. Tufts would drop it.

The district attorney replied, according to the deposition, that if the complainants could be "gotten off his back" he would not prosecute. Abrams mentioned Jesse Lasky, Adolph Zukor, Walter E. Greene, and "Abe" Berman as other men with whom he had discussed the affair.

At a conference of some of the men at New London it was agreed, he said, that all of the complainants could be satisfied and lawyers' fees paid for $100,000.

What Receipt Was For.

A receipt put in evidence stated that the money was "in full settlement of a case growing out of an incident at Woburn," and included an agreement to procure full releases from all parties in interest.

Several releases were submitted in evidence, some running to Abrams, Lasky, Greene, and Zukor, and another to Hiram Abrams et al. The signers included Frederick B. Lord of Providence, Frederick Tierney of Worcester, Teresa M. Sears of Boston, and Bessie McDonald of Boston.

"FORBIDDEN" IRISH TRICOLOR SALUTED BY BRITISH OFFICER

BY HUGH CURRAN.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.]

DUBLIN, July 11.—The most remarkable incident so far in the Irish truce occurred in Kingstown harbor today. A few minutes after noon, when the truce became effective, the Irish "Republican" tricolor was hoisted over a private yacht named the June Rose.

Four soldiers rowed out to the yacht and hauled down the flag. The owner then lodged a protest with the military authorities at the Kingstown naval base, and subsequently a British officer visited the yacht, personally hoisted the Irish flag, and saluted it before returning to shore, where a great crowd cheered the amende honorable.

Europe Swelters, Too; Heat Fatal in London

LONDON, July 11.—[United Press.]—All Europe is sweltering in the grip of a relentless heat wave, the worst in fifty years, which has continued for days without any indication of relief. London temperature was 113 in the sun and 90 in the shade on Monday. The number of deaths from the heat is mounting rapidly, fourteen having succumbed on Sunday.

De Valera and Lloyd George Meet Thursday

BY AMBROSE LAMBERT.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, July 11.—"I will be in London for a conference with you on Thursday next."

"EAMONN DE VALERA."

This telegram was received by Prime Minister Lloyd George in the house of commons this evening amid wild cheers from the members.

The Irish delegation is to leave Dublin tomorrow and accompanying Mr. de Valera will be Arthur Griffith, Robert Barton, and Austin Stack. Mr. Barton, who has just been released from a British prison, is a Wicklow landowner. Formerly he was in the British army and now he is the "minister of agriculture of the Irish republic." Mr. Stack is the "republican minister of home affairs." He has been imprisoned several times and on one occasion made a sensational escape from Manchester jail.

May Be Britain's Guests.

It is the wish of the British government that the delegation be its guests, but it is believed in official circles the Irishmen will probably prefer to live independently.

Optimism reigns in official circles that the conference will be productive of peace. It was stated tonight that negotiations will probably last over a period of several months and that the Irish delegation likely will be increased by financial and legal experts as "intricate financial and delicate constitutional points have to be settled."

NO TRUCE IN BELFAST.

BY HUGH CURRAN.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.]

DUBLIN, July 11.—Belfast, the capital of Ulster, tonight is the only city in Ireland which, under the terms of the Anglo-Irish truce that went into effect at noon today, has not assumed the garb and manner of peace.

In the northern city the desperate street fighting of yesterday, in which fifteen persons were killed and nearly 100 wounded, was resumed this morning, and noon, the truce hour, found the heart of the city echoing to rifle and pistol fire, the streets patrolled by armed soldiers, and proclamations posted declaring that the curfew restrictions would be enforced rigidly.

Dublin Dons Peace Dress.

In Dublin, however, such an afternoon and evening was enjoyed as had not been experienced in years. At noon crown forces returned to their barracks, and the civilian police and officials took charge of the city. No weapons were in evidence, and the people laughed and chatted as if they were confident that the peace would last always.

Despite the fact that optimism is at high pitch over the forthcoming conference between Eamonn de Valera and Mr. Lloyd George in London, and that there seems to be vigorous determination that the truce terms shall be rigidly carried out, Dublin castle reports tonight revealed that the week end was filled with violence.

Scores of Homes Burned.

Incendiaries, the castle reported, destroyed eighty-two dwellings during the three days, and partially burned forty-one. Most of these were the homes of Catholics in Belfast.

Many other disorders were noted. Maj. O'Connor, the magistrate of Rochestown, County Cork, was kidnaped and shot last night, and Constable Clarke was shot dead in the streets of Skibbereen.

Britain to Be Tolerant.

The latest disturbance was reported at 11:20 a. m. today, when a member of the Royal Irish constabulary was shot at Edenberry, thirty miles west of Dublin. He was seriously wounded.

It is declared that the British government will not consider sporadic acts of violence as truce violations, as it is realized that Mr. de Valera cannot exercise absolute control over isolated bands of extremists.

18 YEAR OLD GIRL MAKES A RECORD PARACHUTE LEAP

St. Paul, Minn., July 11.—Miss Phoebe J. Fairgrave, 18 years old, of this city, established what was said to be a new world's record for a parachute drop for women when she dropped 15,200 feet from an aeroplane at Curtiss flying field, near here, yesterday. The previous record was said to have been 11,000 feet, held by Miss Mabel Cody, set at Chicago last February.

"It was terrible," said Miss Fairgrave later. "I never want to try it again."

BRITISH, FRENCH CHIEFS COMING TO HELP DISARM

[Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.]

[Copyright: 1921.]

PARIS, July 12.—Le Matin this morning publishes an article, evidently inspired, which says:

"The intention of Premier Briand is not only to accept participation of France in the Washington conference, where problems so important as those of the far east and of disarmament will be discussed under the presidency of the United States, but also to collagorate in person as chief of the French government."

BULLETIN.

[Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.]

[Copyright: 1921.]

LONDON, July 12.—The Daily Chronicle's political correspondent announces as a definite fact that Lloyd George will himself go to Washington with the British delegation which will attend the conference of the Pacific powers.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, July 11.—Prime Minister Lloyd George may go to America to attend the conference on international disarmament called by President Harding. He will go if it is possible, and much depends on the date of the conference.

He will be busy for the next month or two with Ireland, the dominions, and the near east, but all those problems now appear to be in a fair way to settlement.

In a lengthy statement made today before the house of commons the premier discussed the proposal for a reduction in armaments. He emphasized that the first principle of the policy of the empire was cooperation with the United States. He said:

"We are all convinced that upon this more than any single factor depends the peace and well being of the world."

Reveal's Harvey's Activities.

It is possible now to reveal some of the inner history of the negotiations. Ambassador Harvey, it now turns out, has been absorbed in these delicate negotiations toward international peace and has been assisted by Nicholas Murray Butler, who ostensibly was in England on a holiday.

When the psychological moment arrived for launching the disarmament conference, Mr. Harvey so informed Washington and Mr. Harding's invitation resulted.

Mr. Lloyd George's statement this afternoon included an outline of the position of Great Britain, America, and Japan, and also on the Anglo-Japanese treaty, explaining the muddle which has arisen over denunciation of the treaty.

Pleased with U. S. Views.

"Last Thursday, when I said I hoped to make a statement today on the question of the Pacific and the far east, I was awaiting replies to conversations which have taken place between the foreign secretary and representatives of the United States, China, and Japan.

"I am very glad to inform the house that we have received the views of the United States and they are extremely satisfactory. The Chinese also have replied satisfactorily. We have not yet had a formal reply from Japan, but we have reason to believe it will be in the same sense.

Welcome Harding's Invitation.

"We welcome with the utmost pleasure President Harding's wise and courteous initiative. The world has been looking to the United States for such a lead and I heartily wish it success. No effort will be spared to make it so on the part of the British empire, which shares to the full the liberal and progressive spirit inspiring it. I am therefore in a position to inform the house of the course of proceedings of the imperial conference.

"The broad lines of the imperial policy in the Pacific and the far east were the first questions to which we addressed ourselves. We paid special regard to the Anglo-Japanese agreement, the position of China, and our relations with the United States. We were guided in our deliberations by three main considerations.

Praises Japan as Ally.

"In Japan we have an old ally and for twenty years that alliance between her and us has not only been of great benefit to ourselves but to the peace of the far east. China is an enormous country with great potentialities and we have to bear in mind not only our own interests but the interests of China herself.

"As to the United States, we see today, as we have always seen, our ideals of the closest character and our desires have been to find how we can best coöperate to realize these ideals. The object of our discussion was to find some means to limit the danger of heavy naval expenditures in the Pacific and to remove those evils which tend to limit the development of our legitimate interests in the far east."

Explains Jap Pact Muddle.

Prime Minister Lloyd George then explained the muddle over the denunciation of the Anglo-Japanese alliance and the decision that the pact must continue in existence twelve months after notice of denunciation is given. This still has not been given, but the league has been notified that it is the desire of Great Britain and Japan that the treaty be brought in full agreement with the covenant of the league.

The prime minister then suggested a meeting on the Pacific and the far east problem preliminary to a general conference at Washington on disarmament, saying he thought this ought to be confined to the powers directly interested.

Treat China as Independent.

Answering questions, Mr. Lloyd George said China would be treated as an independent power.

Lord Robert Cecil, who is a leading advocate of the league of nations, declared today that he welcomed the conference as an important step toward the limitation of armament.

Lord Sydenham, who is a famous international authority, said nothing but good could come of such a conference and it was the only way to secure a reduction of the extravagance to which America, Great Britain, and Japan were committed.

FRANCE AWAITS BID.

Japan to Accept British View.

TOKIO, July 11.—[By the Associated Press.]—After a special meeting of the privy council here today the semi-official agency of the imperial household issued a statement saying that Premier Hara and Foreign Minister Uchida had revealed to the council the proceedings of the negotiations concerning the Anglo-Japanese alliance. The privy council, the statement said, agreed "to accept the proposal of the British concerning the question of renewal."

The result of today's conference will be submitted to the diplomatic advisory council tomorrow, after which an official statement explaining the situation is expected to be made public.

Japan Seeks Harmony.

TOKIO, July 10.—[Delayed.]—An agreement by the United States, Great Britain, and Japan on Pacific problems as a desirable precursor or accompaniment to any renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance is finding favor with Japanese publicists, who seem to believe negotiations to that end have been started. (This dispatch was filed before the announcement in Washington of President Harding's informal invitation to Great Britain, France, Italy, and Japan to participate in a conference on limitation of armaments in Washington.)

The Jiji Shimpo says Japan would be ready to participate in a conference on disarmament should President Harding call one.

France Waits Invitation.

PARIS, July 11.—[By the Associated Press.]—Sheldon Whitehouse, counselor of the American embassy, called at the French foreign office just before noon today and talked with M. de Peretti de la Rocca, director of political affairs, on the possibility of holding a conference on disarmament.

Mr. Whitehouse delivered no document in this connection, merely engaging in a tentative conversation on the subject.

Official comment on President Harding's initiative for a conference on the limitation of armaments is withheld pending receipt of the official invitation, but unofficial opinions, gathered in official circles, are to the effect that France certainly will accept the invitation if one is received.

Pleads 'No Narrowness in This Black Hour.'

New York, July 11.—Adopting as its new slogan, "A Warless World by 1923," the sixth world't Christion Endeavor convention closed tonight by calling upon President Harding and congress to "give us disarmament, by agreement, if possible; by example, if necessary: and give us no narrow partisanship at all in this black hour."

"We insist," said the declaration adopted by the more than 6,000 delegates from all parts of the world, "that as speedily as possible the United States be permitted to take its place of leadership in such a council, association, or league of nations as shall induce or compel all peoples to learn war no more, but brotherhood and the concern for the real welfare of each.

Day of National Isolation Past.

"Since no nation can ever again live or die to itself, and since national neighborhood is geographically accomplished, let the United States see to it that her sons who died for world peace as well as for world freedom, shall not have died in vain."

Declaring that opposition to national prohibition was "essential bolshevism and treason," the convention called upon congress to "speedily conclude the passage" of pending bills for more effective enforcement.

Upholds Blue Laws.

Pledging the delegates to uphold the so called "blue laws," a resolution declared "we depreciate especially the carefully planned propaganda against the so called 'blue laws,' the design of which campaign was to discredit the Lord's Day alliance, which we again indorse, and to make way for commercializing of Sunday by the movies and money-making sports, encouraging contempt the while for prohibition and other such laws.

"We oppose the sale of cigarets, particularly to boys and girls, and are against the unchaste dance and all else that tends to weaken character."

Condemns Racial and Creed Hatred.

Demanding for all Americans equality of opportunity before the law, a fair chance and a square deal for natives and foreign born, and freedom from racial and national hatred in government education and religion, the convention denounces as "un-American and un-Christian, such cowardly and unjustifiable mob murders and crimes of arson as have lately occurred in the south and north, directly or indirectly because of race prejudice born of sin and ignorance."

President Harding and congress and executives and lawmaking authorities of all other countries were urged to "seek the immediate and permanent relief and protection of the suffering peoples of Armenia and other oppressed Bible lands of the near east."

WASHINGTON NEWS —IN BRIEF—

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11.

The administration was confident today that Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, and China will accept the President's invitation for a conference in Washington on limitation of armaments and problems of the Pacific and far east. It was made positive today that the initiative for the conference was taken by President Harding despite reports that the move which may lead to a convention to guarantee against future war was suggested by Great Britain.

The dye embargo controversy was aired during the debate in the house on the tariff bill. Representative Martin of Louisiana, Democrat, spoke for the measure.

President Harding indicated his opposition to a duty on crude petroleum prior to the action of the house ways and means committee in approving such a duty, according to letters from him to Chairman Fordney of the committee, which became public.

Tomorrow the president will address congress on the legislative program and necessity for deferring the soldiers' bonus bill.

A. D. Lasker, chairman of the shipping board, announced the appointment of three vice presidents in charge of operations, the combined salaries of whom will be $95,000 a year.

The Sweet soldiers' relief bill encountered fresh obstacles before the senate finance subcommittee today and may not be reported to the full committee until it has been amended to provide for a veterans' relief bureau as a separate government organization with a head responsible directly to the President.

HARDING MOVE SEEN AS DAWN OF WORLD PEACE

Capital Approves Call for Disarmament.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., July 11.—[Special.]—President Harding, it was positively asserted in an authoritative quarter today, took the initiative in extending the invitation to the four great powers and China to participate in a conference in Washington on limitation of armaments and the problems of the Pacific and the far east, a world conference which already seems to be assured.

Inferences that Great Britain had urged the United States to initiate the conference because of her embarrassment over renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance, were declared to be without foundation.

Confident of Favorable Replies.

It was admitted that the President was well aware of the attitude of Great Britain and her desire for such a conference as he has proposed and that conversations have been held informally on the acceptability of such an invitation by Great Britain and the other powers, but any suggestion that the United States did not originate the proposals both as to the discussion of armament limitation and removal of obstacles to it was emphatically repudiated.

The administration, it was disclosed, is very optimistic concerning the reception of the invitation which is fraught with such momentous possibilities and believes favorable replies will soon be received from Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, and China, China having been asked to participate particularly in the discussions involving the problems of the Pacific and the far east.

It is believed the conference may be held by September or October.

Expect Japan to Agree.

Officials were gratified to learn unofficially from reports of Lloyd George's speech to parliament that Great Britain will join heartily in the conference and were confident that there would be no hesitancy on the part of the other powers concerned, not even Japan, to accept the invitation.

England entering willingly into the discussion in advance of a decision on renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance would force Japan to respond favorably to the Harding invitation, officials declared, even if she might do so reluctantly. But it is the general view here that Japan will not respond reluctantly and that she is just as anxious as the others to have Pacific and far east problems discussed with a view to a just settlement that will remove the chief remaining hazards to world peace.

By a peculiar coincidence, congress took final action today on the naval bill, containing the Borah disarmament amendment, and sent the measure to the President. Mr. Harding is expected to sign the bill promptly, but so far as the Borah amendment is concerned it stands simply as an expression of the desires of congress.

Some Congressional Disappointment.

Although there was general approval of the President's action, there was an undercurrent of disappointment in some quarters that he had not seen fit to follow the suggestions of the Borah amendment, representing the judgment of both houses of congress after more than six months of consideration. It was pointed out that the proposal to bring France and Italy into the conference for the purpose of discussing general land disarmament had been definitely rejected in both houses because it was regarded as likely to lead to failure of the effort to curtail naval expenditures.

While the invitation extended by President Harding appears to limit the scope of the conference to discussion of the limitation of armaments and questions affecting the Pacific and the far east, the feeling that the whole subject of world peace might be discussed, and that out of the conference would grow an organization of nations which the United States would join, was stressed today by several congressmen.

"I believe the outcome of the conference will be the ultimate formation of an association of nations," said Representative Kelley of Michigan. "I hope the conference will work into an association of nations," said Representative Madden of Illinois. Both these congressmen are Republicans.

"Irreconcilables" Not Opposed?

Senator Lodge, however, the chairman of the committee on foreign relations, said he did not believe the proposal had any connection with a possible association of nations, and that he did not expect any opposition to it on the part of those classed during the Versailles treaty contest as "irreconcilables."

Senator Johnson of California had this to say: "Of course, any movement designed to bring about disarmament is commended. I was one of those who supported the Borah amendment, which would have confined the conference to the simple and direct proposition of curtailing naval building. Adding the question of land disarmament will make the task much more difficult."

Strongly for Harding's Plan.

Senator New of Indiana expressed approval of the president's action, and said he hoped the movement would be productive of a good faith agreement to which all nations could subscribe. He was certain the American people would welcome any project which tended to lessen their burdens resulting from heavy armaments.

Senator Poindexter, in charge of the naval bill, said he considered the president's action a definite step forward, and is certain it will receive support from all quarters. "The vital question is the terms on which disarmament can be had," he said.

Senator Pittman of Nevada believes Democrats will support the President. "The action is a definite step toward world peace," he said. "I hope the allies will accept his invitation. The only possible objection I can see from their standpoint is that they might again invite the United States to participate with them in disarmament movements which they have already set in motion."

Pittman said the call marked the end of American isolation.

Forecasts World Peace.

Representative Kelley of Michigan, in elaborating his views, said:

"The suggestion breathes the spirit of amity among nations. It forecasts the solution of the major problems that have troubled the world. The invitation to France and Italy to participate is a step in the right direction.

"Evidently the move has been taken only after careful inquiry among the nations to be represented.

"I hope all questions now affecting international relations, such as the Anglo-Japanese treaty, the California exclusion laws, Shantung, and so on, will be taken up."

Representative Mondell, majority leader of the house, said:

"I have every confidence such a conference will bring about an early reduction in naval expenditures and limitation of armaments, and, eventually, through international conference, a helpful agreement relative to a limitation of armaments generally."

Ends Armament Race.—Madden.

"I am very glad to see popular approval of the President's purpose," said Mr. Madden. "I knew he intended to do that long before congress passed the naval appropriation bill. I am most confident that expectations will be realized and the world will see the necessity for quitting the race for naval supremacy and thereby relieve the taxpayers of the world of burdens far beyond the needs of any country."

SWEDISH ENVOY, HERE, APPLAUDS MOVE TO DISARM

Axel Wallenberg, Swedish minister to the United States, visiting Chicago yesterday, praised President Harding's proposal for world disarmament. He says if the plan is carried out it will place America in the foremost position it has ever held.

"When we think of present day Germany," he said, "we think of her tremendous debts to the allies. Still she no longer has her huge war burden, while England, France, Italy, Japan, and the United States still have.

"That, it would seem to me, leaves only one thing to do—disarm."

The residence was raided last February by the Hyde Park police and a quantity of fine liquor was seized. No arrests were made.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Walsh, who were afterward trailed to Detroit and arrested there by Special Intelligence Agent Patrick Roche, were permitted to escape from Chicago, it is charged.

Chief Charles Fitzmorris said he would cooperate in every way with the district attorney's office and would take immediate action against the policemen if it was shown they were in any way implicated.

Prominent Men as Customers.

Mr. and Mrs. Walsh are said to have confessed to Patrick Roche in Detroit, naming a list of prominent Chicago citizens as customers for the liquor they sold. This list, as disclosed by a checking list kept by Walsh, shows the following names, according to Mr. Egan:

Stanley Hartman of the Hartman Furniture company, who has made affidavit that he bought liquor from the Walshes. His recorded purchases were fifty gallons of rye and a case of whisky.

George Ade, author of "Fables in Slang," who, according to Walsh's list, paid $170 a case for four cases of whisky. He was charged $5 more per case than other customers because of his reputation, it is said. Mr. Ade has not yet been questioned.

More Customers to Be Quizzed.

The following persons will be asked by the district attorney's office tomorrow for questioning, as they are named as customers of Walsh, but have not been questioned by Mr. Egan:

R. R. Richardson, overall man, 337 South Wells street.

Theodore C. Butz, banker, at 111 West Washington street.

It is said James W. Walsh, alleged brains of the gang, was introduced into the Illinois Athletic club and the South Shore Country club by Dr. Frank H. Blackmar. Walsh received a guest card, it is alleged, and after gaining a foothold in these social strongholds recruited his clientele from among those who could afford to pay well for their liquor.

Sold 500 Cases Here.

At least 500 cases were disposed of in Chicago, Mr. Egan declares.

According to the district attorney's office, Walsh got his liquor from Canada. It was brought from Detroit to Chicago by truck. J. E. McGrath is sought on a warrant as the chauffeur who hauled the liquor. Miles Canavan, a former saloonkeeper on Indiana avenue, is also sought on a warrant as the man who negotiated many deals for the liquor combine.

Mr. Egan said yesterday he would leave for Detroit July 20 to start proceedings to bring Mr. and Mrs. Walsh back to Chicago.

Policemen in Inquiry.

The members of the police department who are named in Chief Fitzmorris' order to report to the district attorney's office are:

EXPERT 'KIDDING' COUNCIL ON FEES? ALDERMAN ASKS

Lyons Claims on Board's Charges Assailed.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

Ald. Albert O. Anderson has sent a sarcastic letter to Ernest H. Lyons, one of the city's real estate experts who admits he has collected $577,426.41 and claims $60,917.78 additional. Anderson questions the accuracy of Lyon's letter to the city council.

"You say," reads the aldermanic letter to Lyons, "that if you had charged the regular rates fixed by the Chicago Real Estate board for valuations your compensation would have exceeded $800,000, instead of $638,344.19, the amount you have actually earned to-date."

"I happen to be a member of the Chicago Real Estate board and am at a loss to understand how you compute the board's rate."

Anderson Recites Rates.

Anderson then proceeds to recite the rates to Lyons, who happens to be chairman of the valuators' committee for the board. The alderman continues:

"You will notice therefore that the board rate on amounts in excess of $30,000 is only one-tenth of one per cent, while you received from the city one per cent.

"The Chicago Real Estate board's rate of one-tenth of one per cent is divided among five members of their valuation committee—the five members dividing of the total fee and the other half is turned into the board's treasury.

"The city not only has paid you one per cent but has paid two other experts one per cent each for making the same valuations. In other words, what the Chicago Real Estate board charges one-tenth of one per cent for, the city has paid you and your associates three per cent, or thirty times as much.

Needs Some Elucidation.

"It seems therefore that your statement that the rate fixed by the real estate board would have entitled you to a larger fee than you have received from the city needs further elucidation."

Commenting on his letter Ald. Anderson added: "If Mr. Lyons is sincere in the letter he wrote the council, I can think of no reason why he shouldn't explain without hesitation. I wrote my letter and mailed it on July 9 and in the natural course of business I should receive a reply tomorrow. If the expert was kidding the council in his letter, I suppose I will get no reply. Kidding about $638,000 of city taxes is no jest. We will see what Lyons has in mind."

ILLINOIS WILL HAVE CONGRESSWOMAN IF STATE LAW ALLOWS

MRS. WINIFRED M. HUCK. [Maizene Photo.]

Mrs. Winifred Mason Huck, daughter of the late congressman, William E. Mason, will be the first woman to represent Illinois in Washington if a vacancy appointment is found to be constitutional. She also will be the first mother in congress.

Mrs. Huck has received assurances she will be named by Gov. Small to fill the vacancy caused by her father's death, if there are no legal technicalities in the way of such an appointment. Mrs. Huck recently visited the governor in Kankakee.

Gov. Small hesitates to name a successor to Congressman Mason because, it is said, the constitution contains no direct provision for the filling by appointment of a vacancy in the office of congressman-at-large.

H. C. OF LAUNDRY KEEPS WHITE SOX UNIFORMS DIRTY

Trial Reveals Comiskey Made Players Pay.

White Sox fans who have often wondered why their favorites appeared on the field in dirty, disreputable uniforms were enlightened yesterday. They learned the players would rather wear the dirty suits than pay 50 cents to the management to have them laundered, but that this does not prevent the management from going into their lockers, laundering the uniforms, and then "docking" the players.

The disclosure was made during the examination of a venireman for the jury to try seven former White Sox stars and four alleged gamblers in connection with the 1919 world's series scandal. Judge Hugo M. Friend is hearing the case in Criminal court.

Attorney Explains System.

"Would you take into consideration in considering your verdict," Attorney Henry A. Berger, counsel for the defense, asked a prospective juror, "the fact that these players had to pay 50 cents to Charles A. Comiskey every time they got their uniforms dirty, and that every time they slid into a base they got them dirty?"

The juror said he would not. Later Attorney Berger explained that formerly the Sox players had to pay for having their uniforms laundered, and it got to be such an expense they wore them dirty rather than pay. Then, when they left town, the Sox management went through their lockers, laundered all the dirty uniforms, and "docked" the amount from their salaries.

Team May Lose Seven Men.

The possibility of the Sox having to do without the services of Manager "Kid" Gleason and six veteran players when they leave on their next trip was strengthened when Judge Friend instructed the men not to leave the jurisdiction of the court.

Gleason, with Eddie Collins, Faber, Kerr, Schalk, Wilkinson, and McClellan, appeared in the morning in answer to subpoenas. The Sox leave Chicago July 24, and at the rate the selection of a jury is proceeding it is hardly probable it will have been chosen by that time.

BOYS COMPLAIN OF TREATMENT ON LAKE BOAT

Company and 'Y' Officials Split on Charges.

Boys from Chicago and Milwaukee, making the voyage to Sturgeon Bay to earn spending money by picking cherries, have complained of "brutal treatment" received when aboard the Goodrich line steamer Carolina. While parents were demanding an investigation last night, their charges were declared unfounded by Park Robbins, general passenger agent for the shipping concern.

Two hundred Chicago lads, in care of Y. M. C. A. officials, departed on the Carolina last Tuesday. Soon afterwards letters began to come to the parents narrating tales of abuse by officers and crew.

"Packed in Like Sardines."

"At night," wrote one boy, "we were herded into a room filled with sleeping members of the crew. We had to sit in this hole till 1 o'clock, when they let us off at Manitowoc to buy ice cream. When we got back we were packed in like sardines in a little room, and there was so much noise that we could not sleep. Everything is all right but the boat ride."

H. F. Tormohlen, a Milwaukee churchman, who accompanied the seventy-five boys from that city, verified the charges.

"As soon as they got aboard," he said, "I heard an officer say that as soon as the boat reached the lake the boys were to be sent below decks. Guards were stationed at the stairways to prevent their coming up. Some slept on coal piles and pieces of freight.

"Ship officers insulted the boys and drove them around, swearing at them profusely. I tried to interview the captain to get permission for the boys to go on the upper deck, but he was angry at some mischief they had done and refused to permit it."

"Y" Officials Demand Action.

The Milwaukee Y. M. C. A. officials are incensed at the treatment the lads received and have joined parents in demanding action.

"I have talked with the captain of the Carolina," declared Mr. Robbins, the general passenger agent, "and find that the charges were unfounded. This ship and crew have been transporting boys to Wisconsin and Michigan for several summers and none of the young passengers has ever been abused.

"They were carried under a special rate, which gives them the privilege of the main deck only. It was very hot Tuesday night, however, and some of the Milwaukee boys wandered up to the promenade deck. Then the Chicago lads insisted on following them.

"They made a great deal of noise, running around the deck, shouting and peeking into staterooms. Finally they were ordered back to the main deck. As for them being compelled to sleep on coal piles, that is foolish. I think some of the boys must have been exaggerating."

BERLIN ARTISTS FIGHT U. S. TYPE OF STREET ADS

BERLIN, July 11.—Artists and architects are roused and protesting en masse against the "threatening defacement of Berlin's physiognomy through American advertising signs."

It is seriously entertaining three new applications for advertising concessions, including advertising signs on street corners and lamp posts.

This does not mean advertisement of American goods, but the aroused esthetes view with alarm the attempt to put over on Berlin "permanent advertising signs after American patterns."

The charge was disorderly conduct. They were taken on warrants sworn out by the woman's husband, Ralph A. Nerger, who is suing for divorce.

In a fight which accompanied the arrest Richardson knocked down Nerger and his attorney, A. A. Worsley, who has an office at 179 West Washington street.

Back in February Mr. Richardson declared there was a plot of members of a whisky ring to blackmail him. He intimated indictments would be asked for several prominent men, among them a congressman. He stated one of the ring asked permission to release $100,000 worth of liquor and promised, in return, to keep Richardson's name from appearing in connection with a divorce action.

Nerger Derides Idea of Plot.

Richardson said he had Nerger's permission to call on Mrs. Nerger. Nerger denied this vehemently and called the talk of blackmail plot "ridiculous." He stated he had become so infuriated one night when he saw Richardson kiss Mrs. Nerger that he would have shot the man had not a friend taken the revolver from his hand.

"I didn't think he knew we meant to name him in the cross-bill to my wife's suit," Nerger said.

About 6:30 o'clock Nerger, Attorney Worsley, and the police entered the Nerger home. Richardson was there, playing checkers with Mrs. Nerger's mother, it is said. He was taken to the station. He called up a friend and was released on bonds. Mrs. Nerger, it is said, was served with the warrant later.

Fight Comes After Release.

It was after Richardson had left the station with the bondsman that the fight occurred.

The four men—Richardson, his friend, Nerger, and the attorney—began talking about the arrest and the divorce case. The talk became acrimonious. Suddenly, it is said, the big ex-dry chief cut loose with rights and lefts. The police brought all four back to the station, lectured them, and turned them loose.

But when a reporter called up the police station last night the police said they had heard nothing of the affair—had no record of anybody named Richardson.

WOMEN CHIEFS OF BOTH OLD PARTIES TO ADDRESS 2,000

Women leaders of both old parties will address a large feminine audience in Chicago tomorrow. Mrs. Medill McCormick, first chairman of the Republican national women's committee, and Mrs. GeorgeBass, first chairman of the Democratic national women's committee, accepted an invitation to speak before 2,000 or more women who will attend the convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards at a luncheon at the South Shore Country club.

Girls Mutiny at Home; Beat Guards, Break Glass

Nine inmates of the Chicago Home for Girls, 51st street and Indiana avenue, beat attendants, broke windows, and knocked plaster off the walls Sunday afternoon, it became known yesterday, in mutiny against food and things in general. "We are being starved. No eats, no peace," they told the police. The girls were taken to the Juvenile Detention home and yesterday the directors asked Miss Stevens, recently transferred because she allowed too much liberty, to return.

ROMANCE ENDS FOR KLOOR, LOST IN NAVY BALLOON

New York, July 11.—[Special.]—The small salary a lieutenant in the navy receives has broken up the romance of Lieut. Louis A. Kloor Jr. and Miss Alexandra Flowerton.

Miss Flowerton has gone to the Thousand Islands for the summer and Lieut. Kloor is sticking by his station at Far Rockaway, nursing his grief, but maintaining the breaking of the engagement was reached amicably. Kloor was one of the three naval aviators who became famous last December when their balloon wandered from Far Rockaway to Mattice, Canada.

Today Mrs. Flowerton, the girl's mother, admitted the engagement had been severed "because of the small salary which a naval lieutenant received. My daughter has always been accustomed to a living which could not be continued on a naval lieutenant's salary. We all think Lieut. Kloor is a brilliant young man and are sorry."

Coffee cakes are good on Tuesdays and Wednesdays too

Especially in warm weather, Henrici's coffee cake is an always welcome addition to the home menu, and it is appropriate alike for breakfast, luncheon, dinner or a late "snack."

—Good old-fashioned word of homely virtue, that "snack" (isn't it?), even if the dictionaries do tack "colloq." to it?

Some people follow precedent so implicitly as to wait until Saturday to purchase coffee cakes or other products of the Henrici Bakery Department. But one who does that incurs risk of disappointment; the safe plan is to leave your bakery order when you come today to breakfast, luncheon, dinner or late supper.

And, by the way, would not a layer cake or a plain cake go pretty well with ice cream tonight at home?

When motoring tonight, why not come to the Loop for a sandwich, or other light refreshment? There are, near Henrici's, unrestricted parking privileges at night-time.

CITY HALL BOOMS RIVERVIEW FETE; WHEELS RUN ON

Authorities "Pass Buck" on Park Gambling.

A new drive to fill the Lundin-Thompson strong box through the sale of tickets to the organization's jubilee at Riverview park July 27 was decided upon yesterday at the Thompson county central committee meeting in the Hotel Sherman. Dr. William H. Reid, $6,000 commissioner of public service and committeeman from the Thirty-first ward, said the judicial election left the organization with a deficit. The machine leaders want to build up a big bank account for the legislative and county primaries and elections next year.

Dr. Reid's motion, carried unanimously, means that employes of the city, state's attorney, sanitary district, parks, and county, which are dominated by the Lundin-Thompson machine; business men with contracts with these offices; and saloonkeepers and proprietors of places whose existence depends upon the favor of the administration, will have to buy more tickets at $1.10 per ticket.

Following another pilgrimage last night to Riverview, Chicago's Monte Carlo, the reporter came to the conclusion that it's hard to find out what makes a gambling paddle wheel go round.

The reporter heard again the tinkling of the dimes and quarters splashed by handfuls into the tin strong boxes of the barking croupiers. And then he went to seek the "how do they do it" of it all, and found—nothing.

"No, I don't own this concession or rent it," said one operator between barks of "Too bad, nothing on the little number that time." "No," he continued. "I just work here. Wait a minute. . . ." And he went over to sweep up a handful of coin.

Gambling? Where? Cop Asks.

Near the "Jack Rabbit," where the screams of flying girls attested to aerial thrills, stood a big and placid policeman.

The law lent an attentive ear. "Gambling? Where? Show it to me. We allow no crap games in this park—not while I'm on the post—O, these paddle wheels! Well, that's different. I don't know anything about them. I guess they must have a permit to run them or they wouldn't be running. Go ask the captain about it."

Riverview is in North Robey street district. But at that station the commanding officers declare they have nothing to do with the supervision of Riverview park. They say Capt. John D. McCarthy of the Town Hall station is directly in charge. Capt. McCarthy is in Boston, Mass., on a furlough.

Acting Captain Won't Act.

Lieut. Fred Holzer, acting captain at Town Hall, refuses to interfere.

"Any information will have to come from the captain," Lieut. Holzer said. "I know nothing about any gambling at Riverview park and will not do anything while the captain is away."

Sheriff Charles W. Peters was said to be in New York City, and his office was not certain just when he will be back.

State's Attorney Inactive, Too.

Likewise State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe. Although a reporter waited all day at his office in hopes of catching him, the prosecutor did not appear.

Mr. Crowe, through his chief investigator, Benjamin J. Newmark, has been exceedingly active against gamblers recently. But Riverview park, where the gamesters take an annual toll from poor workingmen, factory girls, and clerks, has been left sweetly alone.

THREE CHICAGOANS DROWNED IN DAY AT SUMMER RESORTS

Yesterday brought to Chicago news of three men drowned at summer resorts. The victims are:

CHARLES LARSEN.

Charles Larsen, 1502 North Karlov avenue.

Larsen had gone with four other members of the Alverno Athletic club to Spring Lake, Mich.

With his companions, Charles Eddy, 1502 North Karlov avenue; Charles Klock, 1514 Addison street; Raymond Haas, 1514 North Kedvale avenue; and Clayton Petersen, 1908 North Spaulding avenue, Larsen had gone in swimming. Suddenly he sank. His companions brought him to the surface after four minutes, but could not revive him. He was the main support of his widowed mother, Mrs. K. Larsen.

Iseminger had gone with his uncle on a fishing trip in northern Michigan. The telegram received yesterday said he was drowned last Saturday, but gave no details.

Heslk, a hardware merchant, sank in Fox lake when he pitched from a boat. He was rowing Miss Eva Brown and Miss Edna Davidson of Chicago. It is believed he was overcome by the heat.

The body of Joe Thompson, 14 years old, 523 West 42d place, who was drowned at Diamond lake Sunday when a companion rocked the boat, was recovered yesterday. With him were Edward Beckwith, Elmer Cloud, and William Porter, the latter nearly losing his life in attempting to save Thompson.

MRS. STILLMAN HERE?

Mrs. "Fifi" Stillman, a principal in New York's sensational divorce case, is said to be a guest at the Lake Forest home of the Harold F. McCormicks. She has been there several days, it is reported. It was said at the house last night that Mr. McCormick is in the east and that "no one is home but the children."

The butler, who answered the telephone, was told that a reporter wished to speak to Mrs. Stillman.

"Just a minute," he said.

"I have no information to give out to newspaper men," he said a little later.

Friction— the Pickpocket of Industry

IF the loss to industry through unnecessary friction could be entirely eliminated, it would mean a saving of sufficient money to pay off the combined state debt of Illinois, Indiana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Missouri and Kansas in a single year.

—(Moody's Manual)

It would represent twice the value of all the vessels produced in the United States in a normal year, and would be greater in value than the annual rye, barley, or rice crop.

—(Statistical Abstract of U. S.)

The value of power lost to industry through friction has been estimated to reach the staggering total of $185,000,000 annually.

—(Industrial Oil Engineering)

Realizing that friction is an undesirable partner of industry, and feeling its obligation as the leader among manufacturers of lubricants, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has for years maintained a staff of lubricating engineers and lubricating chemists, whose business it has been to consult with industrial engineers to solve for them their individual lubricating problems as they are presented.

The services of these men are given without charge, and the saving effected has been great.

When it is realized that every machine presents a friction problem, and that every industry, from cotton goods to corn flakes is dependent on proper lubrication for turning out its product efficiently, one function of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) becomes more apparent.

COOKING IS LOST ART IN U. S. HOME, SAYS HOTEL MAN

Delicatessens' Prosperity Laid to Women.

Some advice and a sound scolding were given the American woman yesterday by Jacob Miller, for forty years known from coast to coast as a hotel steward. Mr. Miller issued his statement, advising and scolding in the same breath, at the convention of the American Caterers' association, which opened at the Coliseum in conjunction with the American Hotel Men's convention and the exposition of the American Hotel and Restaurant Equipment association.

"American women have forgotten how to cook," said Steward Miller; "that is why the delicatessen store is such a fine business.

Eating a Neglected Science.

"If the housewives would train their husbands into eating good, nutritious meals, excellently prepared, the price of meat would go down. But the woman never order anything except the best steaks and chops, loins or rib roasts. In fact, the women wouldn't know how to prepare a meal from the cheaper cuts . . ."

Here he must have caught a wrathful feminine eye, for he smiled and added quickly:

"That is, of course, most of them wouldn't."

"In," he continued, "eating is a science that we Americans should pay more attention to. But we don't," he sighed, "and we never will. What we throw away would feed the rest of the world."

Getting Cafeteria Habit.

E. L. Thornton, newly elected president of the association, predicted that the whole country will be eating à la cafeteria in a few years.

"The cafeteria business has grown faster than any other in the country," says he. "Millionaire, shop girls, office boys—they are all getting the habit of eating in the cafeteria."

The class of young women in institutional cookery of the School of Domestic Arts and Science, after visiting the exposition yesterday, presented the hotelmen's association with what they called was one of their most carefully prepared menus for hot weather luncheon. It follows: Fresh fruit cocktail, molded salmon, cucumber sauce; Saratoga chips, June peas, clover leaf rolls, butter; tomato and asparagus salad, French dressing, raspberry ice cream, iced tea or coffee.

College Course Planned.

A college course for hotel men leading to the degree of bachelor of arts, is expected to be one of the outgrowths of the convention. This, it is expected, will be a part of the regular curriculum of Cornell university. The course of study tentatively outlined is:

First year: English, biology, chemistry, French, physiology, and textiles.

Junior year: Economics, chemistry of foods, elements of business law, food preparation, household mechanics, accounting, dietetics, psychology, and food selection.

Senior year: Labor problems, municipal administration, institutional management, hotel management, marketing.

"A man must be smart to be a good hotel man," said J. K. Blatchford, secretary of the association.

"HOME, SWEET HOME" LEAVES THEM COLD

HEIRS OF MARION CRAWFORD SUE FILM PRODUCERS

New York, July 11.—[Special.]—Mrs. Noreen Marion Crawford, widow of F. Marion Crawford, the novelist, and his children, Mrs. Eleanor Rocca, and Bertram and Clara Marion Crawford, brought suit in the Supreme court for $50,000 damages today for breach of a contract for the production of the novelist's work in films.

The complaint alleges that the defendants, Elting F. Warner, T. B. M. Terhune, and Amerigo Serrao, agreed through Serrao, as their agent, to make film plays of thirty of the Crawford novels, and to produce six of them before next May.

The defendants were to pay $5,000 for each novel filmed and 3½ per cent royalty, but it is alleged that only $5,000 has been paid and no novel has as yet been filmed.

Washington, D. C., July 11.—William Howard Taft was sworn in today as chief justice of the United States.

Those present included Mr. Taft's brother, Henry W. Taft of New York, and John T. Adams, chairman of the Republican national committee.

Immediately after taking the oath Chief Justice Taft went to the White House to pay his respects to President Harding. He was accompanied by Mr. Daugherty.

BRUTALITY TO PRISONERS AGAIN LAID TO HUGHES

Judge Francis Wilson in the Criminal court yesterday ordered the state's attorney's office to investigate the charges made by three prisoners that Chief of Detectives Hughes and his assistants had beaten them with clubs and burned their fingers and ears with matches and cigar stubs.

Two of the men, Martin "Big Six" Sicks and Vincent Dursel, arrested in connection with the robbing of the State Bank of Clearing last Saturday, appeared before Judge Wilson on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus. They said they had been beaten and abused by the police.

Michael Geary, another member of the gang, came into court and exhibited black and blue marks on his shoulders, arms and back. Judge Wilson ordered the men taken to the county jail for the night and said he would consider issuance of a bench warrant for the chief of detectives today.

HARDING TO ASK CONGRESS TODAY TO SHELVE BONUS

Will Visit Capitol to Deliver Message.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., July 11.—[Special.]—President Harding will go to the capitol tomorrow to deliver in person his message to congress on the legislative program, unless something unforeseen interrupts his plans.

He so informed Senator Lodge, Republican leader, and Senator Curtis, Republican whip, who called on him at the White House today.

The substance of the message is already known to congress, Mr. Harding having outlined his views to senators with whom he conferred last week. He wants the bonus sidetracked, along with other legislation, so that congress can devote itself exclusively to the purposes for which the present session was called—namely: revision of the tax and tariff laws.

The president, it is understood, was assured by Senators Lodge and Curtis that they would be able to muster sufficient votes to shelve the bonus bill after the message is delivered.

Debate Bonus in Senate.

Debate on the bonus bill continued unabated in the senate today. Senator Norris of Nebraska urged that the expense of the bonus be met by collecting the interest due on the allied indebtedness to the United States.

Senator Harrison of Mississippi, Democrat, declared the Republicans would be worse than "rubber stamps" if they bowed to the president's demand and pigeonholed the bonus after voting by an overwhelming ma- to consider it now. He added:

"It may be that the argument he will give you when he comes here pleading for the defeat of the soldier legislation is that argument that was given to him the other night when he was in conference with J. Ogden Armour, John Wanamaker and the treasurer of the Republican party (Fred Upham). But you had better take your counsel from your constituents."

Early Recess Is Penrose Plan.

Both houses will take a recess as soon as the tariff bill is passed by the house if the program favored by Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, chairman of the senate finance committee, is carried out.

GEN. PERSHING INVITED TO SEE COWBOY GAMES

Gen. John J. Pershing and his son, Warren, have been invited to open the annual world's championship cowboy contests, which begin in Grant park Saturday afternoon. The invitation was telegraphed yesterday by Col. Robert R. McCormick, asking him to be a guest of Mrs. Potter Palmer's special committee in charge of the tournament.

More than fifty cowgirls and cowboys are in town, and two carloads of Canadian outlaw mustangs from Lethbridge, Sask. Bad equines they are, too, for in the roundup at Calgary last fall they threw sixty-eight of the seventy-two expert cowboys who entered the bronk riding contest.

Chicago's tournament will be held under auspices of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society. Ex-service men only will be employed as ushers. They will be obtained through the Aviation Club of Chicago, which is operating an employment bureau for fighters.

Prices realized on Swift & Company sales of carcass beef in Chicago for week ending Saturday, July 9, on shipments sold out, ranged from 8 cents to 16.5 cents per pound and averaged 12.6 cents per pound.—Adv.

YORK, GREATEST HERO OF WAR, IS IN NEED OF HELP

Evansville, Ind., July 11.—A national "Help-a-Hero" fund was started here today by Walter A. Thomas, conductor of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad, to prevent the foreclosure of a $12,000 mortgage on the farm of Alvin C. York, "greatest hero of the world war."

He sent $5 to the office of the Evansville Press and urged that others send money to the newspaper for the same purpose.

"I admire the stand York has taken in refusing to go on the stage," Thomas said. "His attitude has been splendid. He hated war. He was a conscientious objector. He took it to the Lord in prayer and decided that it was best to go. And he made the best soldier in the allied armies. I'll say it's modesty when a man, single handed, kills twenty-five Germans, puts out of commission thirty-five machine guns, and captures 132 prisoners and then calls it 'an act of providence.'

"It's up to the people to force enough money on this modest man to pay off his mortgage and that $850 grocery bill. This has been a hard year for farmers."

Another Rubber Sac Gone Wrong!

—Well, what can you expect, if you use an old-fashioned self-filling pen? The ink chemicals harden and rot the flimsy rubber sac. Then comes the deluge, the inky fingers, the spotted clothes and the ruined pen —also the profanity.

"Get a Dunn-Pen and say good-bye to the rubber sac! The Dunn-Pen is leak-proof, clog-proof and flood-proof and it holds several times as much ink as any self-filling sac pen of the same size.

UNFAIR!

TO AUTOMOBILE OWNERS

Is it fair that the thousands of careful drivers who seldom have accidents should pay the same rates for Automobile Insurance as the careless drivers? Decidedly not! Then, what's the remedy?

A PREMIUM CREDIT FOR CAREFUL DRIVING

Instead of collecting the full annual premium from you, as other insurance companies do, WE COLLECT ONLY 30% of your premium. If you have no accidents during the policy year, you SAVE AND KEEP the other 70%. On the other hand, if you do have one or more accidents, you pay for the repairs to your car UNTIL YOU HAVE EXPENDED THE 70% OF YOUR PREMIUM WHICH WE DID NOT COLLECT FROM YOU. When you have paid out the 70% for repairs, then WE pay all losses in full thereafter until your policy expires.

You cannot possibly lose, and every careful driver can save 70% of his premium.

Why did these men vote to hide the truth?

A NEW PEACE CONFERENCE.

Any conference for a general limitation of armament must resolve itself into a discussion of all major problems of international friction. The President's proposal to the great powers is, therefore, in reality an invitation to another peace conference.

It is not necessary to enlarge upon the importance of this step. If there has been anything obvious in the state of the world since 1919 it is that the work of the Paris conference was badly done and that much of it would have to be undone. At times it has seemed that Versailles had ruined Europe, but the forces of life have been strong enough to combat the mischief and European society is still afloat.

Yet the gravest weaknesses remain. The nations are still bearing a heavy burden of armament and a heavier burden of economic restrictions imposed by selfish policy or fears. The economic organization of Europe has been demoralized and is not being apparently restored. It is traversed and impeded by political and military policies to the impoverishment of Europe and the imperiling of western society.

Colossal as the task of restoration is, it must be attempted, and at the threshold is the duty of clearing away so far as possible the errors of the Versailles peace. There can be no limitation of armament, no reduction of armament, until the major problems of European peace are reconsidered. It is wise for the American President to take the initiative and it is proper that a new conference should be held in this country, whose financial and economic resources are the most important factor in restoration and whose comparative disinterestedness and freedom from traditional hostilities are recognized.

So far as the ostensible object of the conference is concerned—that is, disarmament or, rather, limitation of armament—no progress can be made except as settlement of the underlying questions is made. But the Borah proposal for a limitation of naval building by Great Britain, the United States, and Japan is a practical project not necessarily involving adjustment of relations, since it may provide merely for a continuation of the status quo. It would seem this should be realized, whatever the larger and more complicated plan of the President may be. A general peace conference may prove to be a mountain laboring to bring forth a mouse. A naval agreement in the Pacific can be made without much delay, saving millions of dollars for our taxpayers.

AN AID TO NATIONAL MORALE.

The National Civic federation, with the approval of President Harding, Secretary of Labor Davis, and Secretary of Commerce Hoover, has organized a national industrial committee, designed to bring together for conference leading representatives of conservative labor organizations, employers who believe their interests are closely allied with the interests of their employés, and the general public.

Formation of such an organization, including in its membership such men as former President Taft, Samuel Gompers, John Hays Hammond, T. Coleman Du Pont, and John D. Ryan, is an encouraging feature of the development and active operation of a sound, sane Americanism. It represents a healthy, patriotic, and progressive thought and spirit in this country, which will provide the best possible insurance against the development of such fanatical radicalism as that which is now making Russia a center of human misery, devastated by typhus, cholera, starvation, and restriction of liberty.

Russia's downfall was due primarily to the fact that there was no adequate middle class, no common ground on which the downtrodden peasant and workingman could meet with employer, business man, politician, or professional man for consideration of their mutual interests, and improvement of their economic and social position. There was ease and luxury on the one side and toil and misery on the other. There was no medium through which these extremes might be brought together and blended into a tolerable, stable existence for all.

In America we have already gone far toward eliminating such extremes. Where they now exist they are individual rather than class cases, due to physical and mental inferiority on the one side and perhaps to moral deficiency and lack of vision and understanding on the other. There exists a common ground on which we may meet. The mechanic with a bank account and an automobile has much the same point of view concerning property rights and political problems as the man who owns the bank and two or three motor cars.

In this common viewpoint lies much of the strength, stability, and prosperity of America and Americans. The new national industrial committee is designed to broaden and extend it. It is not a medium for the speeding up of the millennium, but an organization to settle our domestic difficulties quickly and sanely. As such it should be highly valuable in the improvement of our national morale, in the elimination of jealousy and envy, and in the general betterment of conditions.

A ROAR FROM THE TAMMANY TIGER.

It seems the governor and his allies of the city hall are not anxious to abide the processes of the law in the matter of the state interest investigation. The governor is out with a typical Lundin-Thompson roar about "rich tax dodgers and traction barons."

But what have rich tax dodgers or traction barons to do with the question whether Mr. Small, when state treasurer, did or did not mishandle the state funds?

His tactics are easy to understand and his phrases are old stuff, which is losing its value. They deceive fewer and fewer of the public and will not retard the exposure of the facts. If the governor's hands are clean, it will in due time be shown. Meanwhile a smoke screen of vague counter accusations will be taken only for what it is, an attempt to hide what the city hall seems desperately anxious to hide. Mr. Small talks wildly about the seven millions he cut from the appropriation. He says nothing about being responsible for the budget. He does not explain that an administration leader clapped on the budget at the last minute most of the large money items he cut out. He says nothing about the new pads in the pay roll and the increased salaries for machine job holders.

But all that is going to be made clear in spite of the city hall smoke screen and the roaring about rich tax dodgers, whom Mr. Small does not name, and the traction barons, who seem to get along nicely in spite of the waving of the Lundin-Thompson tin sword.

Bunk is not going to save the Tammany tiger.

THE MID-WEST IS OUT TO LEARN SOMETHING.

A tour of investigation and inspection of the entire route of the proposed St. Lawrence seaway now being conducted by the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater association ought to give the final impetus necessary to congressional approval of the project.

Representatives of sixteen states in the membership of the association are obtaining first hand information on the practicability of the improvement. They will return to their home districts with accurate personal knowledge of the feasibility of the project, the rich country which can be put into direct steamship connection with world markets through the seaway, the vast potential manufacturing districts which can be opened up through the development of cheap hydro-electric power, and the certainty of saving millions of dollars a year—estimated by Julius H. Barnes as high as $336,000,000—to American farmers.

With this first hand knowledge the business men and farmers who are now making the inspection will have material necessary for putting their demand for the improvement before their representatives in congress in a way which will brook no refusal. Some of the congressmen and representatives themselves who are members of the party of inspection will be in a position to refute all the selfish, feeble adverse arguments which have been and will be offered against the improvement.

The party will see the great amount of middle western products which are now carried over the St. Lawrence route, through the present shallow and inadequate canals which were built and are maintained by the Canadian government without cost to Americans for service. The travelers will understand the much greater possibilities of a waterway which will eliminate the treacherous currents of the river, shorten, broaden, and deepen the canals and locks, and put interior lake ports in direct touch with the world. The contrast between the present reality and the future possibility in itself ought to stimulate immediate favorable action.

Engineers have reported to the international joint commission after eighteen months of survey that the cost will be $252,728,200. Of this amount half will be borne by Canada, requiring an outlay of only a little more than $126,000,000 by the United States. The value of the water power development alone, it is estimated, will pay more than 10 per cent on this investment. According to Mr. Barnes, the saving to middle western producers will pay considerably more than 200 per cent. Such an investment very evidently will be of tremendous value not alone to the middle west but to the entire nation through the development of business and the elimination of waste.

With the information which the party of inspection is now obtaining it is to be hoped they will be able to get prompt results in Washington.

Editorial of the Day

WHERE DID EGYPT END?

[St. Louis Globe-Democrat.]

None of several well-written histories of Illinois marks definitely, and with finality, the imaginary line where "Egypt," said to begin in Illinois at the Ohio river banks everywhere between the Mississippi and the Wabash, ended, at its northern boundary.

This is such an open question that the guess of the persons who are surveying the Lincoln trail, calling it the northern boundary of "Egypt," may pass as being as good as another. Their line, drawn between St. Louis and Vincennes, may come as near to hitting it, had it ever had a permanent habitation, as does the tradition that the northern boundary of "Egypt" was the old National road, running almost parallel with what is now the Vandalia railway line.

There was no "Egypt" in Illinois until after eastern townlot boomers, platting a townsite at the forks of the rivers, called it Cairo. It is easier to trace the origin than the northern boundary line of "Egypt" in Illinois.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

THE CYNIC.

He treads the earth; nor strives to moons or stars.
He asks of Life no high, emblazoned Name.
Disdainful ever the mirage of Fame,
The facts of life no phantom vision mars.
He treads the earth; accepts, and bears his scars
As marks upon the score card of the Game;
Expects, in turn, that others do the same;
Nor turn to him if cheated at bazaars.

He owes no debt to all the maudlin kin,
In pleasure payable; nor thinks he sings
When, as the rabble wallow through the mists,
He lifts his raucous voice above the din,
Drives home the rapier to the heart of things,
And leaves the slop to sentimentalists.

PERCY FLAGER.

THE genial ice man informed us yester morn that the price would be advanced from 60 to 70 a hundred eftsoons. The consumer will again arise and chant, "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

Thanks: The Douche, You Say!

Sir: T'other day I stepped into Barn.'s drug store at Rushnell and asked for a nasal douche. The clerk stared at me vacantly for fully a minute and then politely retired to ask the boss for a naval douche. He was thinking, I venture, of the admiral! P. D. GOG.

P. S.—(Suggested heading, ad libitum), "The Douche, You Say!" P. D. G.

Condign Punishment.

Sir: The fear of the Lord is sometimes worth its weight in ice. Report has it that at the recent meeting of the Baptists in Des Moines there were signs of a coming disturbance. The chairman scared them into quiet by a threat to throw them "into a prayer-meeting for the rest of the forenoon." Even the most orthodox quit their talking. HTS.

OCTAVE.

The day is but a golden rose
In gardens of the sun,
And night's a purple-petaled flower
That blooms when day is done.

Our souls are like to butterflies
That seek for nectar far—
Now sipping joy in noon-drenched fields,
And now from star to star.

LAURA BLACKBURN.

JEDGE LANDIS in the Eveamerican: "Work and forget all about it (the heat), and I've got plenty of work to do. My collar isn't wilted yet." "How," queries C. S., "could it? His neck is ten sizes smaller."

The jedge is a bit old fashioned in the matter of neckwear. He wears the starched collar, which to our notion is the cruelest yoke of servitude ever inflicted upon submissive man. We would as lief spend a day in the pillory, as to commit what we are pleased to call our neck into its constricting custody. We could indite a Pindaric strophe to that daring genius who gave to the world the negligee collar. But for it the Adam's apple would have shared the ignominious fate of the appendix, the tonsils, and other Oslerized organs.

Adverting to the jedge, we believe he displays sound judgment in wearing starched collars ten sizes too large.

This Should Be the Plus of Something.

Sir: Friend of the People, asked where the field of the flag should be when the stripes are vertical, answers helpfully that the stripes should be horizontal. Suggesting that worthy classic of the schoolroom:

A.—Yes.
Q.—Which?
A.—Flatter. S. B.

We Owe Him a Vote of Thanks.

Sir: Perhaps Geo. B. Shaw and Arthur Brisbane know as much about boxing as Jack Dempsey knows about grand opera, but think of the intelligence Jack displays by not trying to write about grand opera! A. C. L.

("—there were men, like Keats, who believed in art as an absolute . . . and Masefield still clings to that fading creed. We can't accept it, though we should like to, for we have seen things that were true and not beautiful . . . We know nothing about life, says the modern, except its surfaces . . . We live among these exteriors . . . We shall write poetry about the colors of roofs and the droop of a jade carving . . . So imagism was born."—Maxwell Anderson in the New Republic.)

They told me that old time romance was dead,
That men no longer worship and bow down
Before the shrine of beauty. With stern frown
Would they oft greet my fancies, for they said
That fact and fixed reality now tread
Upon the foibles of the heart. The crown
Of poesy and song is ta'en adown
From fair Apollo's brow, and on the head
Of Vulcan has been placed. I might believe,
I might for all those dear lost fancies grieve,
Hadst thou not come within my ken, but now
My heart again makes fantasies, for thou
Hast brought to earth old time romance. In thee
Beauty incarnate and romance I see. H. B. V.

Sir: Why didst raise envy in fair Harriet's breast by saying Frisco girls were always loveliest? Poor Harriet! She knows not, I ween, the charms of the pulchritudinous queen, who, the world bowing at her feet, graciously favors Market street, and Powell, too, as you well state: the girl of the w. k. Golden Gate.

But Harriet, say not, it's not so, because you've never chanced to go where the fogs caress, and the golden sun, and the sweet trade winds, their work have done, so truly well, that all Frisco girls, are the essence of sweetness, curves, and curls.

Paz suggests you saunter Market street, or Powell, in your search for sweet specimens of female loveliness. Do it, and unless I miss my guess, you will not find a one, whose beauty's not superior, unless, perchance, you meet a lime from Southern Cafeteria. COFFEE DAN.

How to Keep Well. By Dr. W. A. Evans.

THE INFANT DE LUXE.

"THE great social diseases, such as lying, stealing, prostitution, cruelty, and destructiveness, usually result from bad training or lack of training of the orderly association of hand and brain in the acquirement of character qualities," says an opening statement in Dr. G. H. Clark's booklet on "Character Training of Children."

The training of a child should commence in the first month of life and the ends sought should be determined by the age. By the second month he should know something of distances and touch. He should be permitted to touch smooth and rough things, soft and hard things, light and heavier things. At the third month he should readily grasp objects of different sizes and weights held at varying distances. He should find his legs, put the feeding bottle to his mouth, and use his legs.

From the very beginning he should be fed at regular times and at no other. At three months the feeding times should be 6 and 10 a. m., 2, 6, and 10 p. m.

At six months the finger should be familiar with all objects around the room, with marbles and blocks. He should know where the clock and other objects are when they are named. Dr. Clark says that at this age the teaching of constructive and purposeful movements should be begun.

At 9 months he should pull off his own shoes and stockings and know why he does it. At 12 months he should seriously assist in dressing and undressing himself. At 15 months he should button and unbutton his clothes and properly lay away his shoes for the night.

A standard of accomplishment is given for each three months of the first year and for each yearly period. Orderly habits are established by precept and example. The precept is made pleasing and playful.

The training in character consists in learning to resist temptation, to help maintain the home, to respect the rights of others, to know the use and value of money, to accept responsibility for his acts, to dress in conformity to social usage, to have moral initiative, to value time, and to possess nervous stability. The more highly developed and complicated of these character qualities follow naturally during the years of childhood if the training is begun in infancy.

When a year or more ago we published the accomplishments which children of given ages should have in order to score 100 on the Clark score card many fond parents were cast down. They found that their supposedly remarkable hopefuls did not come anywhere near the standards set. They overlooked the fact that to score 100 on the Clark scale the character training of the children must have been begun in the first month of life.

CONTINUE USING GLASSES.

B. writes: "I am a boy between the ages of 16 and 17 years. I have worn glasses for the last five years on account of nearsightedness. How can I cure my sight to normalcy? I do not wish to wear glasses any more, but if I must to be cured will wear them."

REPLY.

Nothing you can do will materially change your eyes. Continue wearing properly fitted glasses. If you are nearsighted the tendency will be for your eyes to become more normal as you grow older, and in time you may be able to see well without glasses. Age may cure you, though you cannot cure yourself.

GET DETAILED ADVICE.

G. D. S. writes: "Will you kindly outline a rule or course of diet for a diabetic patient?"

REPLY.

Diabetics should not eat any food containing sugar or bread or any food in making which any starch containing flour is used, or any cereal. This is merely suggestion. To be successful in living a long and useful life you must have a plan of living which you must carry out in great detail. Such a plan cannot be laid down in a brief letter. Have a physician examine you and instruct you in how to live. Report to him periodically. To aid you in following directions get one of the small books for the laity on diabetes. There are several trustworthy works of this character.

CAUSE OF LEGS SWELLING.

Mrs. J. L. W. writes: "1. What is the cause of the legs swelling during the latter part of pregnancy?

"2. Would just a trace of sugar in the urine cause this? I am dieting for the sugar.

"3. What should I do to prevent it?"

REPLY.

1. Among the causes are Bright's disease and pressure on the large blood vessels in the pelvis.
2. No.
3. For swelling due to pressure keep off your feet. For swelling due to Bright's, diet.

WILL IMPROVE SLOWLY.

Mrs. J. B. writes: "What is the cause of milk leg after childbirth?

"2. What is the best remedy?

"3. How long will it take to get better?"

REPLY.

1. Infection of a vein or lymphatic.
2. Keep the leg warm and still and follow your physician's directions.
3. It will improve slowly. You will be a little lame for a long time in all probability.

SEND TO SAN FRANCISCO.

A. G. writes: "Having read several times about T. Mack's little book, 'Outwitting the T. B. Bugs,' in your column, I would be very glad to know where to get same?"

REPLY.

From the Macks, Pacific building, San Francisco.

DEPENDS ON AMOUNT.

J. K. writes: "1. Does bathing make a thin person thinner?

"2. Does dancing make a thin person thinner?"

REPLY.

1. No.
2. If she drives hard enough.

SCREENED SKYLIGHTS.

Chicago, July 8.—[Friend of the People.]—We should like to have an investigation made of the building here on Cottage Grove avenue. The building has four covered skylights and each skylight has four families depending on it for air for a bedroom and kitchen. In the summer it is in bad condition, for the odors cannot escape, as the agent will not put screens in the skylights. F. D. P.

An investigation has been made of the building complained of, and a notice from this department has been served on the owners of the property to provide adequate sized ventilators for light shafts, and to screen the doors and windows.

JOHN DILL ROBERTSON, Commissioner of Health.

NOTIFIED TO VACATE.

Chicago, July 8.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Kindly advise me as to what I can do or how long I can occupy premises after being served a five day notice to move.

2. Can the owner put my furniture out on the street within the specified time mentioned in the first notice or must he serve me with still another one from court?

I will thank you for a very early reply. H. J. Y.

1. You have no legal right to remain without paying rent. It will take the landlord at least a month to get possession by legal proceedings. 2. He must sue.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

NO DOGS ALLOWED.

Chicago, July 9.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I rented a flat to a man, and in the lease it says that no dogs, cats, or parrots are to be kept on the premises. Now, I have seen a dog about the place and have spoken to him about it. He declares he will not get rid of the dog. Please tell me how I can make him either dispose of the dog or get out. J. C. R.

Notify him that if he does not get rid of the dog, you will declare the lease forfeited and sue for possession.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

MUST ACT FOR HIMSELF.

Chicago, July 9.—[Friend of the People.]—A man born in England came to this country at the age of 13 to join his widowed mother, who had moved here a few years before. The father had died in England. Is this man a citizen by any act of congress or will he have to take out naturalization papers? J. J. H.

Unless his mother became a citizen of the United States before the boy reached the age of 21, he is not a citizen and must file a declaration of intention and make petition for citizenship two years later.

FRED J. SCHLOTFELDT, Chief Naturalization Examiner.

LEGAL POINTS.

Chicago, July 9.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Is a cognovit or judgment note recordable? If not, what steps must be taken to enable one to make them eligible for recording, the same as mortgages or judgments?

2. In giving a long term lease, is it customary to have security for damages resulting from breaking of the lease? E. S. K.

1. Employ an attorney to have judgment entered upon it. 2. It is not uncommon to require payment of last month's rent in advance. We cannot say that there is any custom on the point.

AN OILY TRAIL.

Chicago, July 8.—[Friend of the People.]—Today I had occasion to go to Blue Island and got as far as 103d street, where I turned west. As I did so I skidded entirely around, almost colliding with another machine. There were four trucks wrecked around there inside of two hours on account of the oil in the street. The streets should be oiled, but not enough to risk human lives. H. D.

This street was covered with a light coat of oil the same day the complainant had occasion to use it, and he should have taken the necessary precaution and stayed off the street while it was being oiled.

THOMAS H. BYRNE, Superintendent of Streets.

BACK TO THE FARM WITH THE HORSES.

Chicago, July 7.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—If a loop concern should buy a number of ox teams and start using them for hauling through the business districts there would be such a storm of protest within a few days that the owners would be ordered to keep the oxen off the streets. Their slow gait would add greatly to the already congested traffic, and they would render the streets filthy and insanitary—they would not be tolerated by the public. The owners might argue that they used oxen because they were economical and that they had a right to use the streets for whatever kind of vehicle they pleased, but the city authorities would undoubtedly reply that the welfare of the public must be considered and that the saving or convenience to the owners was negligible compared to the inconvenience and discomfort to the general public.

Why, then, in the year 1921, are horses permitted on the streets in our loop district? They are only slightly less objectionable than oxen with respect to their gait and insanitary effects. They are more responsible for the congestion than any other one thing.

It may be open to argument whether substituting trucks for the horse drawn wagons would cost the owners more for their hauling. Most business men find the truck cheaper, but if the men who still use horses have conditions which make the truck a little more expensive it would seem as though they should bear the burden rather than the general public. The value of the time they cause the public to lose by having to wait for the slow moving horses to get under way at crossings and to cover their route is a thousand times greater than the increased cost of trucks could possibly be. PITY THE POOR ICE CREAM DISPENSER.

Chicago, July 6.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Following the outcry of Mr. Poole of the city hall and the echo of your editorialist, I went into an ice cream parlor in this neighborhood and prepared to raise the very devil about profiteering.

I ordered a soda and strange to say I enjoyed it. It was rich and creamy and had a great gob of ice cream in it, delicious ice cream, too, I'm sorry to say.

But I was determined to raise hell for the price was 22 cents!

"You're a profiteer!" I shouted at the sweating fellow whom I knew to be the boss by his serious look. He sighed, and then, resignedly, told the following yarn, which I knew to be false, because I believe every single word that Mr. Poole says, for doesn't he know everything about everything of foodstuff and its retailing?

"I pay $1.30 for my vanilla cream and $1.40 for my strawberry and chocolate. It's the best I can get. I never get more than four gallons from a five gallon can. I don't know how many servings I give good measure and have ordered my clerks to do the same. There's much waste through haste, through carelessness, through melting in this hot spell. Much sticks to the spoons and the cans. We never get five gallons from a can and the size of the servings is bound to vary depending on the hardness of the cream. They're always oversize these days when the cream is soft."

But I shook my head and repeated, "You dirty profiteer." Then he showed me his books, pointing out that he wasn't getting rich and didn't even have a flivver. He even had the nerve to show me callouses on his hands from digging out ice cream and remarked that he wasn't making as much cooling off the hot public as Mr. Poole is in making 'em hot. GEO. E. HARRINGTON.

HOSPITALS AND NURSES.

Chicago, July 5.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Hospitals do not keep student nurses in the nurses' school for several months after graduation, any more than any other educational institution forces its graduates to remain in school on completion of the course.

The fee given student nurses, ranging from about $5 a month up, is only "pin money," and is in no sense considered as payment for services rendered. Many nurses' schools make no allowance whatsoever.

At the 1920 meeting of the American Hospital association it was generally agreed that in order to produce a well trained, well fortified nurse a course of three years is necessary, eight hours daily, with one month a year for vacation.

A graduate nurse on special duty in a hospital receives $6 or $7 a day, and her pay is a matter to be settled by the patient who employs her, and not by the hospital.

The foregoing statements should be given space in the Voice of the People column in connection with a recent letter from "Justice," headed "The Hospitals' Profits on Nursing," which indicated considerable misunderstanding of the question of education of nurses.

MATTHEW O. FOLEY, Managing Editor, Hospital Management.

YOU MAY CENSURE, BUT NOT CENSOR VOX POP.

Chicago, July 7.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I see you publish in SUNDAY'S TRIBUNE a letter advising that it is time to waylay and murder the preachers and reformers who would claim the world for decency and sobriety. Do you approve such letters? Have you no blue pencil? Is it not time to cut out these scurrilous, anarchistic screeds, of which by far too many appear in your paper? Who is the back alley assassin who signs his name "G. B. C."?

I am a constant reader of "the World's Greatest Newspaper," and I tell you that your wobbling on the great moral issues cuts your influence in half. J. A. C.

STORM BEFORE LULL IN ERIN

A wave of violence swept portions of Ireland during the week-end, on the eve of the truce which went into effect yesterday noon, except in Belfast, the Ulster capital, where rioting continued, curfew restrictions were replaced, and armed soldiers patroled the streets. Fifteen were killed and nearly 100 severely wounded in Belfast's "bloody Sunday."

There was also severe fighting at Castle Island, County Kerry, where several were killed and many hurt.

The shaded counties on the map indicate where week-end violence took place.

Two policemen and a woman were killed in Tipperary; a British major was kidnaped and shot dead in County Cork; there were disturbances in Skibbereen; a castle was burned in Wicklow, and a mail train was wrecked in Tyrone.

The rest of Ireland is reported quiet and restored to a peace basis, with the military forces hidden from sight.

CONGRESS MAY BOW TO DAWES ON SWEET BILL

Belief in Centralized Relief Work Grows.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., July 11.—[Special.]—Fresh obstacles blocked the Sweet bill today while the senate finance subcommittee listened to amazing disclosures of injustice done to both disabled veterans and the taxpayers through maladministration of the war risk bureau and loose legislating by congress.

Further delay, it was expected, will be necessary, due to a growing belief on the part of members of the committee that the measure should be amended to carry out the original suggestion of the Dawes commission that the veterans' relief bureau should be a separate organization with its head responsible directly to the President of the United States.

Charges Many Injustices.

Col. C. R. Forbes, director of the war risk bureau, went before the committee and urged it to act promptly towards putting the soldiers' relief work on a more efficient basis.

"Great injustice has been done to deserving soldiers," Col. Forbes declared. "The war risk bureau has not been carrying out the intent of congress in trying to give proper benefits to deserving men. The whole situation demands a change and the whole bur move you gentlemen can do is to consolidate these various services."

The committee is beginning to hear from the country about the delay over the sweet bill.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon in a letter to Senator Smoot, chairman of the committee, said under existing law compensation is not allowed to ex-service men unless they are rated as 10 per cent or more disabled. The Sweet bill would eliminate this limitation and grant disability allowances to ex-service men for every kind of disability, no matter how slight, incurred in line of duty. Secretary Mellon made no recommendation.

"It is a question for congress to decide, Col. Forbes said. "You gentlemen should decide as a matter of policy how liberal you are going to be with ex-service men."

Col. Forbes explained that removal of the 10 per cent disability limitation was intended to enable the war risk bureau to grant more allowances for dental work, and for treatment of eye, ear, nose, and throat troubles. He estimated that the dental work, if carried on under the present system, would cost about $80,000,000, but he thought that if it were done in government hospitals it could be reduced 50 per cent.

Filling Teeth and Pockets.

This statement led to the disclosure of widespread frauds perpetrated by dentists on the government. Col. Forbes said dentist bills, running as high as $300 a man, had been rendered to the bureau. He told the committee that he had stopped the payment of many bills.

Senator Walsh declared that the conduct of dentists in many cities was "a scandal," in one city involving thirty dentists.

"Col. Forbes admitted that he had the secret service at work on the dentists in New York.

Col. Forbes said it was presumed by the compensation law that an ex-soldier was sound when drafted into the service. But, Col. Forbes said, a man adjudged insane and committed to a lunatic asylum in 1915, escaped, was drafted into the army and in about a month discharged for insanity and recommitted to the asylum. He now draws $157 a month compensation.

Meantime, complaints about the government's neglect of disabled veterans have been pouring in upon the special committee on soldiers' relief.

They accepted the services of Col. Cornelius W. Wickersham, son of the former attorney general, to aid in speeding up the investigation.

ILL, HE ENDS LIFE.

Carl Harbe shot himself three times yesterday in his room at 1823 West Huron street and died later. His wife said he had been despondent owing to illness.

TAKING THE JOY OUT OF JOYRIDE

Two garage employes who, according to the police, had gone out joy riding, were injured yesterday when the automobile collided with a street car at Clark and Erie streets. The men are Thomas J. McCormick, 1927 West Chicago avenue, and Fred Hammond, 1334 West Grand avenue, who worked at the Tivoli garage, 4918 Broadway. The automobile belongs to I. H. Starr, 905 Lawrence avenue, the police said, and was reported stolen Sunday night. The automobile was smashed, as were a number of windows in the street car. Several women on the car became hysterical.

'MASTER FORGER' TRAPPED ON EVE OF NEW ROMANCE

Hugh T. Kray, alias C. A. Arnold, W. H. Meistner, and W. A. Leonard, known to the police as a master forger, was arrested in Minneapolis by Pinkerton detectives yesterday following his indictment by the grand jury here on a charge of confidence game.

HUGH T. KRAY.

According to Herbert Mosher, assistant general superintendent of the Pinkerton ageney, Kray obtained more than $20,000 from loop banks recently by forging the O. K.'s of bank officials to worthless checks. Mr. Mosher traced him to Minneapolis, where he was found to be connected with the Markle Motors company of 2907 East Lake street.

"We found him engaged to be married a second time and on the point of purchasing a $6,000 home for cash," said Mr. Mosher. "Detective Sergeants John J. McGinnis and Edward P. Birmingham will be sent with extradition papers to bring Kray back to Chicago."

LEGION CHIEFS TO LAUNCH FIGHT FOR BONUS BILL

Plans for an extensive battle in support of the soldiers' bonus bill now pending in congress were revealed yesterday when executives of the Mississippi Valley department of the American Legion met in the Hotel La Salle.

Under direction of William R. McCauley, department commander, and his aids, the legionaires will flood the congressional mail with demands that both the bonus and Sweet bills be passed forthwith. In addition the legion leaders will request every patriotic, social, benevolent, and business organization to pass similar resolutions and forward them to their senators and representatives at Washington.

Appeal to President.

It is expected the first of the week will find the drive well under way. An appeal to President Harding to "carry America's pledge of fair play to her service men and expedite the passage of the adjusted compensation bill" was authorized by the meeting and carried the signatures of legion executives from nine states, representing nearly 250,000 ex-soldiers.

"We are going to battle to the last ditch to see that these bills get over," Commander McCauley said. "We want the men in Washington to realize we mean business. They have dallied along, making promises and giving excuses. Conditions are now becoming unbearable. It is the time for action.

Fighters Did Not Daily.

"If the men in the trenches had postponed the times for going over the top you would have heard these same senators and representatives calling for explanations. We didn't stop or wait, but went in and fought. Now we are going to fight some more.

"The senators and representatives who are standing with us won't be forgotten."

Former service men will be given preference in the selection of prohibition officers. This was announced yesterday by John Kjellander, state director of prohibition, following a conference with Legion leaders.

LEGION CLASHES WITH CINCINNATI OVER HOSPITAL

Cincinnati, O., July 11.—[Special.]—Using as a basis that it costs 63 cents a day to feed each disabled world war hero at the United States government Altamont hospital at Fort Thomas, Ky., Leroy Fahnestock, commander of Robert E. Bentley post, American Legion, alleged today that the Cincinnati General hospital, a city institution, is feeding disabled veterans at a cost of about 15 cents a day.

Fahnestock made the charge at a conference of American Legion officials with Charles E. Tudor, safety director of this city. The city hospital is a $3,000,000 institution and veterans have been treated there under contract with the government. Mr. Tudor said the city is losing money on the contract and would be better off without it.

Last year's contract rate was $3.75 a day, and the new contract, not yet approved by the war risk insurance bureau, calls for $3.50 a day.

Mr. Tudor said many scandalous things have happened in the soldier ward.

COPETTE NEEDS A ROWBOAT AT EVANSTON BEACH

Not a single arrest slip was torn from the new book taken to the Evanston beach yesterday by Policewoman Georgiana Juul. But today she will have a rowboat in which to pursue bathers in abbreviated suits who swim away at her approach.

Policewoman Juul first came upon Robert Phillips. He wore a one piece bathing suit.

"You'll have to appear in court—your suit is indecent," she told him. "Your name, please."

"Robert Phillips, life guard."

"But where's your regulation suit?"

"It's wet. I just pulled a little girl out."

Phillips was reprimanded for not setting an example to other bathers, then Miss Juul started after other violators. But as she approached her flashing star warned her prey and the bathers leaped into the lake.

"I've either got to wear a bathing suit myself or get a rowboat," she told P. T. Blanchard, commissioner of public works.

Big Little Business and Little Big Business

As a business grows, there comes a period when it is too much for one man to run—it gets out of hand here and there.

The more salesmen you have, the harder it is to insure that your product will be uniformly presented to buyers in different parts of the country. The more branch offices you have, the more different sales policies are likely to be actually (though perhaps not avowedly) in operation.

To present your intentions and achievements to the great public through advertising is also to mould and unify the opinion of that lesser public which is your own organization.

Advertising is to big business what discipline is to an army. It fixes, standardizes, and publishes the best way of saying things and doing things.

When the right conception of your business is part of national public opinion, it becomes also the public opinion of your body of employees.

ONCE a month, or more frequently, we issue a publication called Batten's Wedge. Each issue is devoted to a single editorial on some phase of business. If you are a business executive and would like to receive copies, write us.

office fixtures. Friends of the administration claim that the late Alonzo Curtis founded a Grant Park bank, a private institution, and that a portion of this bank's business later was taken over by the First National Bank of Grant Park. The balance of the business, they maintain, was merged with that of the Grant Park Trust and Savings bank when the law abolishing private banks went into effect the first of this year.

The state contends the old Grant Park bank referred to had passed out of existence long before the loan was made. No records can be found here, it is said, showing such a bank ever was officially organized.

Judge Warns Jurors.

The grand jury did not begin taking testimony until 4 o'clock. Every one of the jurors had reported by 1:30 and were given their instructions at that hour by Judge E. S. Smith of the Circuit court. He warned them against allowing their political views to influence their decision.

"The matters that are going to be presented to you are of more than ordinary public interest," he said, "and in your consideration of them you must give your unbiased decision. Whatever your political belief may be let it not sway you in this important undertaking. You must not indict any one through hatred or ill will, nor free any one through favoritism."

Brundage Holds Conference.

Attorney General Brundage arrived from Chicago on an afternoon train and immediately went into conference with Assistant Attorney General Albert H. Rodenburg, Treasurer Miller, and State's Attorney Mortimer. The purpose of the conference was said to be to discuss the best order in which to lay the evidenve before the grand jury.

"This grand jury investigation is not a retaliatory action for any act, official, political, or otherwise," Mr. Brundage said. "It is something that has grown up piece by piece since Mr. Miller took office. Ever since the first of the year he has brought to the attorney general's office this evidence bit by bit. It has been accumulating a long time. When we decided it had reached such proportions as to demand an investigation by the Sangamon county grand jury we turned it over to State's Attorney Mortimer."

State's Attorney Mortimer declared his intention of pushing the inquiry until all the facts are brought to light, "no matter whom it hits."

Treasurer Miller, who was the only Lundin-Thompson candidate on the state ticket elected with the exception of Small, has decided to "go the route."

Miller is said to have refused to sign up on the dotted line for Lundin after he had won in the primaries and that he took the office absolutely independent of pledges.

Small Issues Statement.

Gov. Small arrived in Springfield from an automobile tour and issued a statement. It follows:

"The schemes and slanders of the character assassins who are the tools of the rich tax dodgers and the traction barons, and those who have been prevented by my veto from looting the state treasury, will not deter me from doing everything within by power to carry out the principles upon which I made my campaign, and which I reiterated in my inauguration address.

"I promised that I would try to give the people a dollar in value for every dollar of their money spent. I have succeeded in reducing the cost of roads many thousands of dollars a mile, and I have vetoed $7,000,000 in appropriations, cutting out items which were not necessary to the welfare of the state.

"For the purpose of giving the general assembly an opportunity to enact revenue legislation which will force the rich tax dodger, who conceals his property, to pay his just share of taxation which will give to the people of Chicago, or any other contiguous transportation district of the state, the right to determine by their votes whether they shall own and operate their own street railways at a 5 cent fare, I propose to convene the general assembly in extraordinary session between the 15th day of November and the 15th day of December, next, and I am giving this notice in order that the members of the legislature may make their plans accordingly."

WHO KNOWS?

MRS. CHARLES WEEGHMAN.

MRS. WEEGHMAN REPORTED ABOUT TO MARRY AGAIN

C. J. Thresher Named as Her Fiance.

Mrs. Bessie Webb Weeghman, divorced wife of Charles Weeghman of arm chair restaurant and baseball fame, is soon to become the wife of Charles J. Thresher, diverced husband of Mrs. Janet O. Thresher, it is reported.

According to rumor, the wedding had been set for Saturday, but friends do not credit this, as a divorce was not granted Mrs. Thresher until a year ago next month. Another marriage within a year would be illegal.

Mr. Thresher laughed last night when asked about the approaching wedding. "That's funny," he said. "It's the first I've heard of it."

Former Wife Credits Rumor.

"I've understood they are going to be married," his ex-wife said, "but I don't know when. I have heard they will live in our old apartment at 435 Surf street."

Thresher, a department manager in Marshall Field & Co.'s wholesale store, was told of what Mrs. Thresher had said.

"Please don't bother me," he requested. "I will neither deny the story nor confirm it."

Mrs. Weeghman could not be reached yesterday. Mr. Weeghman said: "Call me tomorrow and maybe I'll know something about it."

Weeghman Alimony $400 Month.

Mrs. Weeghman was given $400 a month alimony and the custody of her 8 year old daughter, Dorothy Jane.

Mrs. Thresher got her divorce Aug. 30, 1920.

"It was simply a matter of taking orders from him or leaving home," she said. "There was no use arguing."

FIRE DEATHS ACCIDENTAL.

Accidental death was the verdict of the coroner's jury which yesterday investigated the deaths of Stanley and Casimir Kozsicki, 13 and 3, respectively, who were killed in a fire at their home at 3224 Wall street Sunday.

...RDING SOUGHT ...O AVERT TARIFF ...ETROLEUM DUTY

...nted Resources Saved, Expansion Abroad.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., July 11.—[Special.]—That President Harding indicated his opposition to any duty on crude petroleum prior to the action of the house ways and means committee in approving such a duty became known today. It was learned that the president sent two letters to Chairman Fordney emphasizing the importance of encouraging the participation of American citizens in the development of oil resources abroad.

The President declared that a duty on crude petroleum would be at variance with the program for the safeguarding of the future oil supply of the country.

Notwithstanding the President's attitude, the Republican members of the ways and means committee a few hours before the Fordney bill was introduced in the house, decided by a vote of 9 to 7 to impose duties on crude petroleum and fuel oil. Previously the committee had stood 10 to 7 in favor of leaving them on the free list.

The President's Viewpoint.

In the letters to Chairman Fordney President Harding said:

"I cannot refrain from expressing the hope that your committee will take note of the foreign policy to which we are already committed, under which the government is doing every consistent thing to encourage the participation of American citizens in the development of oil resources in many foreign lands.

"This course has been inspired by the growing concern of our country over the supply of crude oil to which we may turn for our future needs, not alone for our domestic and commercial purposes but in meeting the needs of our navy and our merchant marine.

"To levy a protective tariff on crude petroleum now would be at variance with all that has been done to safeguard our future interest. I can readily recognize the claim of some of the oil producers for a protective tariff on their product.

Policy Is Shortsighted.

"But such a course of temporary relief would be so thoroughly out of harmony with the larger policy which I have had in mind that I should be more than disappointed if congress decided to levy a tariff on import oil.

"The oil industry is so important to our country and our future is so utterly dependent upon an abundance of petroleum that I think it is vastly more important that we develop an abundance of resources rather than temporary profit to a few producers who feel the pinch of Mexican competition. I thank you very sincerely for your considerate attitude in the matter.

Both sides of the controversy within Republican ranks over the question of the dye embargo scheme of the tariff were heard during the house debate today.

Girl's Screams in Loop Trap Man Who Snatched Her Purse.

MISS OLIVE WILLIS.

Screams of "Help! I'm robbed!" in front of the Majestic theater in West Monroe street attracted hundreds of loop pedestrians to the aid of Miss Olive Willis, 6457 Minerva avenue, from whom a thief had snatched a purse containing $150 and two drafts for $50 each yesterday afternoon. After a sensational chase the alleged thief was captured. At the central station he gave the name of Joseph Pawlowski, 29 years old, 3049 West 22d street.

Pawlowski was captured by Irving H. Stillwell of Chicago Heights, formerly a deputy sheriff at Grand Rapids, Mich.

Miss Willis had just left the First National bank, West Monroe and South Dearborn streets, where she had drawn the money, and was starting back to the offices of Allyn & Bacon, school book publishers at 1006 South Michigan avenue, where she is employed as an information clerk.

She was carrying the money in a large purse under her arm, and in front of the theater the thief approached her from the rear.

"Just What I Want," and Robber Takes Wedding Ring

"Just a wedding ring," said A. F. Manke of 2121 Pioneer street, Evanston, when the tall Jesse James with the mask and revolver gazed appraisingly at it.

"Just what I want," announced the robber. "I'll need it this month."

Now the Evanston police are including themselves among those present at north shore ceremonies. Besides the ring the thief got $32 from Manke and $15 from Myron Deroth, who was riding with Manke.

Klearflax Linen Rug Company,
Duluth, Minn.

Gentlemen:

Klearflax Linen Rugs have served me so satisfactorily that I feel you should know about it, thereby enjoying the satisfaction of knowing one more pleased and appreciative user of Klearflax Linen Rugs.

When I remodeled Beekman Arms three years ago, with the view of attracting the best motorist patronage possible, it was but natural that I used great care in selecting the furnishings, which necessarily had to be attractive as well as serviceable and stand hard usage. Klearflax Linen Rugs have fulfilled these requirements admirably. The beauty and restfulness of their one-tone color adapt them to any color scheme. Their excellent quality and the fact that they are reversible render them very durable, and the maids say: "A joy to keep clean." The result is that I have attractive and sanitary rooms.

I have had a great many inquiries from my guests as to what rug they are, and it always pleases me to say: "Klearflax." I'd say: "Klearflax makes a room fit to live in."

Sincerely yours,

W. W. Foster

WE have placed Klearflax Linen Rugs and Carpeting in hundreds of the finest hotels and clubs throughout the country where they are giving complete satisfaction.

Klearflax is made both in Rugs and Wide Seamless Carpet. It is a very desirable bedroom rug or carpet, for it is rich in appearance, extremely durable and quite reasonable in price. It is reversible and mothproof. It is used in the best homes and in the finest hotels, clubs, theaters, offices, banks and institutions.

BY JOE DAVIS.

Until late in the afternoon yesterday it looked as if low scoring honors of the first half of the qualifying round of the annual western amateur golf championship belonged to Jimmy Manion of St. Louis, the Missouri state champion, or Rudy Knepper of Sioux City, Ia., the Hawkeye state titleholder.

These players, who are well known in major tournament circles, had turned in cards of 72, equaling par of the Westmoreland club course, scene of the tourney. Their figures withstood the attack of the majority of the 181 starters, but when the shadows began to lengthen over the fairways Edward B. Lloyd of the Jackson Park Golf club, making his first appearance in the western classic, reported with a card of 71.

Lloyd Modest Performer.

Lloyd, who was paired with Secretary Frank Vickers of the Westmoreland club, modestly admitted he shot over his head, but the fact remains he succeeded where other better known local stars had failed, so at the half way mark of the qualifying round Chicago is leading.

Lloyd, who is 27 years old, and weighs 185 pounds, uncorked a fine long game, and on the majority of holes was putting for birdies. He took three putts on the ninth green, but otherwise his play was startlingly machinelike. The Jackson Park golfer reached the turn in 35, and came home in 36. On the journey out he got birdies at the long sixth, 525 yards, where he approached dead, and at the short eighth, where he sank a long putt for a 2. Coming home Lloyd had birdies at the twelfth hole, 453 yards, and at the eighteenth, 460.

Manion Sets Record.

Manion, the little St. Louis player, had an amateur record of 33 for the outgoing nine holes, but took 40 coming home. Knepper, after a mediocre start, played championship golf on the return nine holes, getting 34 for the journey.

Another state champion, Harrison R. Johnston of St. Paul, Minn., landed fourth place for the day with a total of 74, which was finished with a big 40 on the home hole. The Minnesota champion was trapped on his second shot, and took two strokes to get out, reaching the green in 5, and taking two putts.

Johnston's exhibition, except for the 40 finish, was one of the best of the day, and makes the young Gopher titleholder a good prospect for the final.

Nashville Boy Shows Good.

Frank D. Godchaux, who learned his golf around New Orleans but who is entered from Nashville, where he is at school, was another of the younger players to show his class, his card of 75 being well made.

Walter Kossman of Forest Park, St. Louis, who, like Lloyd, is a product of the public links, tied with Burton W. Mudge Jr., Albert Seckel, former western champion; Dewey Weber of Edgewood, and John W. Simpson of Indianapolis at 76, all of them finishing one stroke ahead of Champion Charles Evans Jr.

Chick, who did not start until around 2 o'clock, drew the biggest gallery, being paired with Dexter Cummings of Onwentsia. Chick's approach shots were not quite up to his usual standard, and this added a few shots to his total, but it is quite likely he will be close to the top when taps are sounded at the finish of the second round today.

"Cap" Anson on the Job.

Figuring that it will take 160 to qualify in the first thirty-two places, the players with totals of 83 must be conceded a chance to get under the wire. Only a few players of class fell below this number. Among these were Jimmy Hubbell of Des Moines and Eliot H. Evans of Evanston. Capt. A. C. Anson was the dean of the contestants, but had trouble with the pitching, finishing over the 90 mark; in fact, he was a centurion.

Another veteran was Ralph Hoagland, who played in the original tournament, twenty-three years ago, being defeated in the semi-finals by David R. Forgan.

Play for Olympic Cup.

The first half of the thirty-six hole match for the Olympic cup left the St. Louis district team in the lead with 307 points, four strokes ahead of the Chicago district team. One of these teams should win.

Chicago had its best brand of golfing weather on tap, save that it was a bit tropical in the middle stages. Those finishing late had ideal conditions. The thirty-two players having the lowest scores today will qualify for the championship, the first two rounds of which are at eighteen holes.

Perfect weather conditions favored the players, and the fact that thirty-eight finished with score of 80 or better indicates the class of the field.

The scores at the end of the first eighteen holes:

	Out.	In.	Tot.
E. B. Lloyd, Jackson Park	35	36	71
J. S. Manion, St. Louis	33	40	73
R. E. Knepper, Sioux City	39	34	73

232 Golfers Entered to Start National Open Meet Next Week

New York, July 11.—A field of 232 of the leading professional and amateur golfers of the country, in addition to the famous English professionals, George Duncan and Abe Mitchell, has entered for the national open tournament which begins at the Columbia Country club, Washington, next Tuesday.

GEORGE DUNCAN. [International Photo]

The entry list, announced tonight, shows the second largest number of players ever listed for this fixture, the field falling a few below that which competed at Toledo last season.

Qualifying Field Divided.

Play will open with a two day qualifying round July 19 and 20. On the first day half of the field will play an eighteen hole round and the second day will see the other half of the entrants in a similar qualifying test.

Those players with the sixty-four lowest stroke scores, as well as any tied for sixty-fourth place, will compete in the tournament proper beginning July 21. The entire field of survivors will play thirty-six holes July 21 and 22, the winner being the player with the lowest aggregate stroke score for the seventy-two holes. In case of a tie for first place, the play-off will be on July 23.

AS JOCK SAYS IT

NEW YORK, July 11.—[Special.]—Jock Hutchison, who returned yesterday with the English golf cup and a strong opinion of the unsportsmanlike conduct of the British after his victory, added a touch of irony to his interview today.

"You'll go back next year to defend your title?" he was asked.

"I will NOT," came the emphatic negative. "I do not expect to return to England again, next year or ever."

Georges Signs with Rickard to Defend Title in October

BY HARRY NEWMAN.

New York, July 11.—[Special.]—Georges Carpentier is going to oblige once more. This time the famous French fighter will defend his light heavyweight laurels against some opponent who will be selected by Tex Rickard, and it is expected that the contest will be staged during the second week in October at the big arena in Jersey City.

GEORGES CARPENTIER.

The papers were signed for this new quarrel this afternoon. Francois Deschamps, manager of Carpentier, and his confidential aid, Capt. Mallet, called on Rickard to settle the necessary details before Georges sails for home on La Savoie on Thursday.

Greb May Be the Choice.

Now that Carpentier has been signed up, it is believed Rickard will take his sweet time before he names the Frenchman's next opponent. Harry Greb, the Pittsburgh light heavyweight, will, no doubt, come in for considerable consideration, and it would not be surprising if he were the final choice.

Not having heard anything from Tom Gibbons, it is believed Rickard is somewhat peeved at the action of the St. Paul boxer and may pass him up without any further consideration. The choice, however, appears to rest between those two men.

Greb is a very fast worker, but does not carry the sting in his punches that Tom does, but he would make a most acceptable opponent for the flashy foreigner.

Bob Martin Has a Chance.

It may be that Rickard may decide on Bob Martin, the A. E. F. champion, as the boy to meet the Deschamps entry. Bob can, no doubt, make the light heavyweight limit, and would be pleased at the chance of mixing it with Georges.

Another of the challengers whom Rickard is bound to consider is Johnny Wilson, the middleweight champion, who insists he can build up close enough to Carpentier's weight, and give the latter plenty to think about if they will take him on. However, it is not very likely that Jonathan will be called upon.

Rickard believes the usual mild weather in October will permit of boxing in the open air; but, in case of some untoward incident, he will have Madison Square Garden ready to house the big attraction. The weight limit on the proposed bout will be 175 pounds, and the momentary details will be discussed before Carpentier leaves for home.

JACK OFF ~~TO~~ FRISCO

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, July 11.—Jack Dempsey left today for San Francisco, where, he said, he had some business deal hanging fire. He said he expected to return here within a week.

HERMAN KAYOS ENGLISH CHAMP

LONDON, July 11.—Pete Herman of New Orleans, former world's bantamweight champion, knocked out Jim Higgins, the English bantamweight champion, tonight in the eleventh round of what was to have been a twenty round bout.

Every round but the eighth, in which Higgins planted a left on the chin, was Herman's. For the most part the boys engaged in in-fighting.

The American drew blood in the first round. In what proved to be the last round, Higgins used uppercuts with some effect, but Herman caught him open with a right hook to the jaw, sending him to the floor. Higgins was out for five minutes.

SIX GOOD BOUTS AT FT. SHERIDAN

Six three round no decision bouts were staged last night at the Fort Sheridan vacational camp for wounded ex service men. No knockouts were scored. The following men took part:

Burman vs. Burman	105 pounds
Bolinsky vs. Sinkiman	112 pounds
Berris vs. L. Smith	118 pounds
F. Jummati vs. Joe Rivers	122 pounds
Sinkoro vs. J. Doyle	130 pounds
Ray Rivers vs. Hartnell	140 pounds

The men will be guests today of President Comiskey at the White Sox park, who has accorded them the privilege of his park every Tuesday and Thursday.

ASHER AND MANDELL SHOW FLASHY WORK FOR BATTLE FRIDAY

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Babe Asher, one of the topnotchers of the bantamweight class, and Sammy Mandell, promising boxer of Rockford, Ill., who meet in the main bout of Jim Mullen's boxing show at Aurora on Friday night, have settled down to training in a manner which assures a great fight. At the Arcade yesterday Mandell boxed two rounds with Frankie Schaeffer and two more with Marty Henderson. The boxers let go with both hands and at times the rounds were cut short.

At the Ferretti-Forbes gym, Asher tore into Frankie Jummatti for six rounds aside from going through the usual gymnasium work. Soldier Jim Marples, who will meet Tony Melichar in one of the contests, boxed three rounds at the same place, while Red Cole of St. Louis, who will trade punches with Schaeffer, donned the gloves for a four round session.

Billy Cepak and Julius Stein, who will meet in a grudge contest, worked out at different hours at the Arcade, while Melichar, Eile, and Henderson went through their paces at the same place. Joliet fans are taking a keen interest in the Eile-Henderson bout and have reserved a block of seats around the ring.

"It is going to be one of the best shows of the year," Kid Howard, owner of the Arcade, said yesterday. "There will be a lot of fighting and the contests may not go the limit. Every boxer on the card is telling his friends what he is going to do to his opponent, and I look for some tough fighting."

The Theodore Roosevelt post of the American Legion has purchased 200 ringside seats, while other tickets are being sold in a manner which assures a capacity crowd.

Tickets can be secured at 129 North Dearborn street and 153 North Clark street. A special train over the Aurora and Elgin electric will leave the Wells street terminal at 6:50 p. m. on the day of the show.

NOTES OF THE CUE ROOMS.

Hartford defeated Sampson, 35 to 30, at Reading's last night in the first block to decide the junior three cushion billiard championship of Illinois. The second block will be played tonight.

Barrett beat Birnas [29], 29 to 19, in the three cushion billiard tourney at Foley's last night. In tonight's game, Barnes [29] plays Pope [23].

According to Manager Nate Lewis, the fighter will start his homeward journey tomorrow and will resume training the latter part of the week. Smith will be in Chicago early next week and will work at a local gymnasium.

In one of the other ten round bouts Jack Sharkey of New York will meet Young Montreal of Providence. Promoter Harry Hyams and Matchmaker Dick Curley have received so many requests to make this contest the windup that it may be necessary to flip a coin to see which contest is staged last.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Mr. Bambino Ruth finally made a home run at Comiskey park yesterday to the delight of more than 10,000 Monday patrons. It was his first of the season off a White Sox pitcher and his thirty-second degree for 1921. Incidentally the Yankees blitzed the White Sox, 4 to 0, in the final game of the set.

Ruth's four bagger was a factor in the New York victory, as it arrived in the sixth inning with two out and Peck on first base. But the two runs were not needed, because Meusel had walloped a home run into the left field seats in the preceding inning with Baker on first and those two tallies were all Warren Collins, commonly known as Rip, had to have to win. He held the Gleasons to five hits, two of which came after the game was sewed up, with two out in the ninth round.

Yanks Break Sox Jinx.

It was the first time the Yankees had beaten Kerr this year, the wee southpaw having licked them four times hand running up to yesterday. He held them to seven swats, but two of the seven happened to be out of the set and that was the answer.

The battle was cleanly played, a lone error on each side cutting no figure in the result. Kerr made the only bobble for the Sox when he threw low trying to force a runner at second on a bunt in the eighth round. Ward booted a bounder from Mostil with two out in the fourth, then tagged him out stealing.

For four rounds it was air-tight except for passes. Not a hit was made by either team in that time. Baker broke the string in the fourth by leading off with a screamer to center for a base.

Meusel Lofts into Bleacher.

Meusel lofted one high over Falk's head into the shirtwaisted throng in the left bleacher. Pipp followed with a swat and Ward almost made one, but Eddie Collins pinched it on the fly brilliantly. Schang hit into a double play.

Kerr apparently recovered from that attack, because he struck out the first two Yanks up in the sixth, but could not get one over the plate for Peck and passed him. That apparently peeved Ruth, who caught the second ball pitched squarely on the trademark and sailed it more than half way up into the right field stand for two more runs.

Thereafter Kerr had the visitors thoroughly tamed and they could not score again, although they made one hit in each of the last three rounds.

Sox Have No Chances.

One run was more than the Sox could beat, let alone four. They had just two chances to register off Collins and failed both times. One down in the opener, Mulligan and Collins drew bases on balls. Strunk's rap to Baker retired Mulligan. Falk rolled the side out.

Sheely led in the fifth with a single, but was nailed at second when Schalk missed the ball in a hit and run play. Ray tapped out a single the next time he swung, but got only as far as second before the side was out.

Johnson gave the rooters a hope for a tally by doubling after two were gone in the eighth, but Mulligan flied. Two were out in the last half when Falk and Mostil ripped off singles only to be stranded when Sheely hoisted to Ruth.

SOX NOTES

WASHINGTON today.

The Senators will perform on Comiskey park for a series of four games, with Nick Altrock as a sideshow.

There were unverified reports that the robbery at Comiskey park Sunday night was instigated by Babe Ruth and that the object of the bandits was to steal Babe's jinx, the rest of their loot being incidental.

Ruth hit what would have been a home run on almost any other ball park in the eighth inning, but Falk went far into the corner of left center and caught the ball, in spite of a near collision with Mostil, who also wanted the play.

Eddie Collins made a great running catch of a Texas leaguer from Ward's bat back of first base in the third round. Sheely stole a rattling hit from Baker in the second by a startling bare handed stop.

Denver Grabs a Pennant in the Midwest League

Casper, Wyo., July 11.—Denver is assured the pennant in the Midwest baseball league as the result of team owners meeting here today agreeing on a split season, the first half ending July 16. The lead of the Denver team "cinches" the pennant for the first half of the season.

ST. L., 10; AMERICAN GIANTS, 3.

St. Louis, Mo., July 11.—St. Louis won the opening game from the American Giants of Chicago in the Negro league, 10 to 3. Charleston's hitting of two home runs was a feature. Score:

In the Wake of the News

THE OLD, OLD PROTEST.

DEAR WAKE: Now, my father is not a very good man, judged by the blue laws. Neither was his father before him. On the other hand, my mother and grandmother were most devout Christians. Theoretically I should follow in their pious footsteps.

But the hankering to be up and away will not down, and I, too, would trod the primrose byways a la Frederick O'Brien.

"But you can't," I can hear the sanctimonious Frederick protest. "You can't! You are a woman! An Anglo-

Meanwhile Frederick evades the fact that he's his mother's son just as much as I'm my father's daughter. So, Harvey, I ask you to tell me just why CAN'T I be bad and why SHOULDN'T he be good? (In his books he's too good—to get away with it.)

Sister Ann.

The Wake has no solution, Sister Ann. A young married woman with whom we once discussed the subject voiced this: "I don't believe in the conventions, but they have existed for thousands of years, I am only one person among millions, and am not strong enough to defy the whole world's social system, so I observe it."

On the other hand, as we read the newspapers, we do not see that women are missing much that men are supposed to be privileged to enjoy—if they are willing to pay the price.

Percentage Standings.

Both Cubs and Sox occupy a sorry position in the pennant race standing. Offhand, one figures they must be pretty bad ball teams. Yet when you come to analyze it each team had won about eight out of every twenty games played. That means a fan has almost an even chance of seeing a victory when he treks to the park.

This fact is what keeps up attendance of the real fans. Those who follow the teams only when they are leading or fighting for the lead have dropped out. The fans who like baseball itself stick.

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

New York, July 11.—[Special.]—Young Virgil Cheeves tamed the Giants in the final game of the Cubs-Giants series today, which Evers' men won decisively by a count of 7 to 2. Cheeves was in fine form, allowing only four hits, one of which was a homer by Young Mr. Frisch.

It was a game with plenty of the rough and ready stuff and all the display of pep and ginger was made by the Cubs. Evers was in old-time form with several squabbles with the umpires, but managed to avoid being bounced. His chief assistant, Mr. Dugey, used a couple of words that were too strong and was fired.

Evers in Ruthless Rôle.

Boss Jawn demonstrated clearly that he intends to keep the boys pepped up from now on and that he himself intends to be a hard guy. The team is bound to get good results or at least better than before, under the pep and ginger orders.

Fred Toney attempted to hurl against Cheeves and luck was with him till the seventh, when the Cubs knocked him for three counters that broke up the ball game. Phil Douglas took the job in the eighth, and the Chicagoans hammered him for two. Then Rube Benton came forth and the Cubs walloped in one off him to complete the rout. Looks as if the Cubs may make it tough for a lot of teams from now on.

In the first inning the Cubs earned a tally when Flack walked and went to third on Hollocher's safe blow. Terry slapped into a double play, but Flack scored on it.

Giants Knot Score.

In the second the Giants tied it. Young walked, advanced on Gonzales' out, and counted on Walker's single. The Giants did nothing more with Cheeves' curves till the sixth, with two out, when Fordham Frisch poled the ball into the right wing of the stand for four sacks.

Terry started the seventh round rally with a blow to center. Grimes rolled a slow one to Frisch and was safe when a low throw got away from Gonzales. Barber pushed the two along with a sacrifice and Twombly, going up for Maisel, walked, filling the sacks. Deal singled, sending in one man, and Mariott, hitting for Killefer, singled, sending in two more.

Terry's homer to center, following Flack's single, added two in the eighth and clinched things. Hits by Daly and Cheeves and a double steal put over the run in the ninth.

CUB NOTES

NEW YORK, July 11.—[Special.]—Evers and his crew left for Boston tonight, where they are booked for five games in the next four days.

No trace of Big Jim Vaughn had been found up to the time the Cubs left. Perhaps he beat the manager to it by going home himself.

A hot altercation took place in the third, when Ump McCormick called Cheeves out at third. Boss Jawn and Right Eye Dugey had a lot to say, and the latter was bounced. Sounded like Evers was kicking because the ump called the man out twice, instead of once.

Some of the experts suspected the lively ball had been replaced by the old brand because of the light hitting in the early part of the game. Then Mr. Frisch knocked one away up into the balcony of the grandstand and the ball acted as if a live rabbit were in it.

Woods and Waters

by LARRY ST. JOHN

NOTES BY THE WAY.

WE are advised that the looked for rise in Lake Como never materialized, that the water low, warm, and the fishing pretty much on the blink, which is true of most of the pearby lakes, for that matter.

Exceptions to the above: a good many lakes in southern Michigan. This applies especially to those connecting with Lake Michigan. At Black lake, for instance, the bass went crazy last week, more being caught in the one week than were taken all last season. Theory: minnows have either left for the big lake or are in deep water and badly scattered, because even bluegills, white bass, and wall-eyes were taking casting plugs as willingly as the black bass.

When white bass and bluegills strike casting plugs, you can be sure of a scarcity of natural food, especially minnows. Immense hatches of insects are on, but the fish do not like to come to the heated surface water for them; they prefer to stay in deep water. A good deep water casting rig is made as follows: Put a dipsey sinker—half ounce none too heavy if your rod will handle it—on the end of the line. About twenty inches above this attach about a foot of very heavy silk worm gut, to which tie the hook or lure. The latter may be small spinner, either plain or baited with a worm or minnow, a fly rod wiggler or a small frog. Cast or rather "swipe" it as far as you can, let it settle, and reel slowly.

He just cast that cocky old eye of his at the pictures other directors were putting out and decided he could travel with the best of 'em. He mentioned the fact to his boss. His boss ate up the idea. Result: "Such a Little Queen," directed by George Fawcett. And it's a winner!

Of course, you know, the dear had something to work with—Constance Binney. Put her where you will and you may be sure there'll be one sparkle amongst the all encircling whatever it happens to be. In the present case she has a story that's as charming and unreal as a Mother Goose rhyme. It was made immortal on the stage by Elsie Ferguson, whose was the rôle of the little queen of a country of unpronouncable name, driven to our democratic shores by the typhoon of local uprisings.

Once arrived over here, accompanied by a faithful old baron, the little queen finds herself in rather desperate straits. All the jewels she ever had had been hocked for passage fare. All she has left is her crown and a few royal robes she must use as house dresses, for her one plain dress needs be reserved for street wear. Too, where, O where is the King of Hetland, to whom she is betrothed, and who also was rendered an exile by the uprisings.

CLOSEUPS

Wallace Reid was in town yesterday, girls, wearing a diamond snake ring publicly and (they tell me) black silk pajamas, when the busy press agents and sech deigned to allow him a few moments of privacy to cool off. He's been to the prize fight, where he occupied a $50 seat, and he's on his way back to California. He did hope he'd manage to get through the Windy City without attracting any attention, but the Tivoli people wanted him to run out there and give the girls a treat, and he obliged. He has a valet-secretary, a monogrammed cigaret case, an ivory and gold cigaret holder, and he believes in one thing implicitly—give the dear public what it wants!

Frank Mayo's suit for divorce comes up today, I believe. Mrs. Mayo filed suit primarily naming Dagmar Godowsky. Miss Godowsky filed suit for slander and the divorce action was called off. Now Mr. Mayo, howling for his rights, comes into the courts.

Hedwig Reicher, who will star in "The Rubaiyat," has, it seems, changed her name to Hedwiga. I suppose she thinks the latter doesn't sound so much like an ad for a hair dressing establishment. (Poor pun, but it's a hot day.)

Gus Edwards' "School Days" is to be made into a movie by Warner Brothers.

FASHION'S BLUE BOOK

BY CORINNE LOWE.

New York.—[Special Correspondence.]—Altering Virgil a trifle, we sing today of arms and the woman. This is a sleeveless era, and everything—sports dresses, sweaters, dance frocks, and even restaurant gowns—is apt to be shorn of arm covering.

The restaurant frocks are particularly arresting, and when one is not used to the spectacle of a black crêpe de chine frock without even the germ of a sleeve worn at a country club dinner one is apt to sigh for the besleeved past.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

I want to be the medium through which the friend in deed and the friend in need may be brought together. It may be you have some discarded article which has not outgrown its usefulness that will make some less fortunate one happy, and you would gladly give it if you knew how to go about it. Write to me and I shall be only too happy to be of service to you. Please write on one side of the paper.

When information is wanted by mail, a stamped, addressed envelope should accompany the request. Please do not send parcels to The Tribune, but write for the address of the applicant and send direct.

"The writer is much in need of a baseball uniform, size 44. I have a chance to play baseball, and make a little extra money, but have no uniform. Would some one contribute one to an ex-soldier? I would be glad to call anywhere in the city for it.
"H. W. E."

Who can make it posible for H. W. E. to play baseball?

"J. J. C."

Mrs. C.'s address will be given upon request.

DORIS BLAKE'S ANSWERS

Needs an Inspiration.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am 20 years of age and care a great deal for a fellow five years my senior. He works in a haberdashery store and is making a rather small salary. He isn't ambitious, but wants a good job to walk into his hands. He has asked me to be serious with him. What shall I do?
"CHARLOTTE."

I could tell you any number of stories of wives who have made men over into ambitious, successful business men. Not by nagging and hectoring, but by inspiring them with a sublime confidence in their ability to do something bigger and better than other men. Do you think you are equal to that? It requires skill and tact, but it can be done.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

MOTHER: ESPECIAL CARE OF the diet of the young daughter is needed. Give her fruit, stewed or ripe, for breakfast. No meat in the morning. She needs cereals with cream. Plain, old fashioned oatmeal is recommended. Sirups and sugar and butter she should have. If she keeps her stomach and intestines flushed with water and fruit, she may eat candies and cakes. A lot of the young girl's complexion ills come from eating too much candy and sweets and eating them at the wrong time. They should not be eaten between meals nor early in the morning, else they lose an appetite for the nourishing foods that make good blood and a good complexion.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $1 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Please write on one side of the paper. Address Bright Sayings to Aunty Bee, Tribune, Chicago.

One day Helen's mother took her to her first lecture. She listened intently to the chairman's introduction of the speaker, but yawned all through the address. Finally the speaker sat down and the chairman got up to make a few closing remarks. Helen nudged her mother and whispered, "Come on home, mother, we've seen this show." C. H.

Louis had always lived in an apartment house. This summer he is visiting at an uncle's in a small town. The other evening when his uncle took the lawn mower out to cut the grass, he ran to him and said, "Oh, Uncle, please let me bob the grass." M. C. R.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Lettuce on Toast.

The leaf lettuce has a real heart in these days, some length of stem, and abundant foliage outside that heart and stem, whether we find it in a box or pick it in the garden. Yet we have become almost too exacting to use it much for salads because some of the other salad greens seem to have more character. Perhaps, then, we can make no better use of it than to cook it and serve it in a number of combinations, adding boiled egg chopped and seasoned, or a thick meat gravy, if we want to make it more like a meat dish in quality.

On a day inquire the price of peas, and then spend the money which a pound of peas will cost on this leaf lettuce, and see if you do not get the same bulk of vegetable, or really what can be made to go much farther, while giving you quite as much of a particular sort of food, and almost as dainty a one—never quite, for what is as dainty in the way of a vegetable as perfectly cooked green peas?

Pick off the imperfect outer leaves of the heads of leaf lettuce, looking out for rust and such imperfections. Use scissors to cut off weather edges, if necessary. Wash and drain, then pile a number of leaves together, and cut them slaw or chiffonade fashion.

Drop all into boiling water over the fire for five minutes or longer, if the lettuce is somewhat coarse and likely to be a trifle bitter. The bitter is good for us, though, and not to be had in many foods.

Drain and rinse with cold water, and cook gently in the water that clings to it. Mash a little pimento in some melted butter, to which has been added flour to make a thin sauce, stir the lettuce into this, adding salt and a grating of nutmeg, and serve on toast.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Tribune will pay $1 for every letter published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life." Address Embarrassing Moments, Chicago Tribune. Write on one side of the paper. No manuscript returned.

Charming Childish Candor.

While dining at the home of our neighbor one evening recently our son was noticed by the man of the house while the youngster was in the act of trying to cut off a piece of his steak. The good neighbor offered to assist him just as the piece of steak skidded off the boy's plate to the middle of the snow white table cloth. "That's the way with tough meat," our son casually remarked, much to the amusement of our neighbors, but not to his father and mother. L. E. P.

Can You Conceive of $\frac{1}{1000}$ an Inch?

SAVEALL is smooth to clean teeth safely—no grit to scratch. Counteracts the acids. Keeps your mouth clean and healthy.

Mrs. Ayer to Tell Lake Geneva Colony About Redwoods

Midsummer heat holds no terror for sprightly Lake Geneva garden club, which has meetings of one kind or another every week, and whose members number practically all the summer colony at the lake.

Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, members of the club and their guests will meet at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Ayer, to hear a talk by Mrs. Ayer on "Redwood Trees of California." The talk will be illustrated, and promises to be of more than ordinary interest, owing to the fact that Mrs. Ayer and her husband have made numerous trips through the forests, and have made many unusual discoveries.

Col. and Mrs. Francis T. A. Junkin have returned to Lake Geneva from spending the winter in Washington, and they will have with them for part of the season Mr. Junkin's neice, Miss Ella Junkin Ravenel. Jerseyhurst is always one of the gayest spots around the lake, and this summer the hosts plan several house parties. They had as their guests over last week-end Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Hinde of 1524 Astor street.

AMERICANS SEE CANADA'S GREAT WELLAND CANAL

Interesting Facts Reveal Neighbor's Foresight.

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.

St. Catharines, Ont., July 11.—[Special.]—Canada's new Welland ship canal now in process of construction at an estimated cost of $75,000,000 to the Dominion government was inspected today by the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater association at the start of its educational expedition over the route of the proposed ocean going waterway to open lake ports to the seven seas.

All day the delegates have been viewing the engineering work now in progress on the Niagara peninsula and have expressed wonderment at the magnitude of the enterprise.

Expands with the Years.

The history of the link between Lakes Erie and Ontario is one of almost constant enlargement and reconstruction to meet the growth of trade and lake traffic and the increase in the size of lake vessels. The present Welland canal, with its fourteen foot depth, has long been outgrown and the Canadian government is now building a new artery which is cut thirty feet through the rock and twenty-five feet through the dirt, deep enough to float 90 per cent of the ocean going vessels of the world.

The estimated cost at 1912 prices was $50,000,000, but advanced costs will run it up to $75,000,000 or $80,000,000.

No Tolls to Offset Cost.

Canadian officials said it will take three to four years to complete the undertaking. Already the expenditures have amounted to $25,500,000. The whole expense is paid by the Canadian government; no tolls are contemplated. Since 1896 no tolls have been collected on the Canadian canals. American vessels under the treaty of 1871, and subsequent treaties, are admitted on the same terms as Canadian vessels, perpetual freedom of navigation for ships of both nations being guaranteed.

And when the artery is finished it will probably be used by three American boats for every one Canadian ship!

The first stop of the expedition was at Thorold, home of THE TRIBUNE'S paper mill, where the delegates saw mountains of logs piled up.

They will pass into pulp and paper and in a short time will evolve from logs into daily and Sunday TRIBUNES. There were exercises and the placing of a wreath at the grave of American soldiers who fell in the war of 1812, and the party then proceeded by electric car down the line of the rock cuts.

A Monumental Job.

The shiu canal will be twenty-five miles long, but all the lifting will be done in the seven miles between Thorold and Lake Ontario. In seven miles, with six locks, ships will be lifted 326½ fet. The locks are cut in the solid rock, in some parts 80 feet deep, and they are 800 feet long and 80 feet wide, with 30 feet over the miter sills.

In all, there are seven locks, including the one at the Lake Erie end, and they take the place of twenty-six locks in the present old Welland. Where it takes about sixteen hours for a small vessel to go through the present canal it will take only eight hours for a ship drawing twenty or twenty-three feet to pass through the new canal.

GIRL KIDNAPED, BEATEN, DOPED; THREE MEN HELD

Two of Prisoners Also Are Charged with Attack.

Lillian Bartz, 18 years old, kidnaped, beaten, drugged, and attacked, lies unconscious in the Norwegian-American hospital—now and then waking into hysteria and fighting phantom abductors.

Two men charged with being responsible for her condition are held by the Shakespeare avenue police, and a third is in custody in connection with the case.

The prisoners are Ivan Hawk, 2918 North Robey street, and Marvin Palugradt, 1825 Elston avenue. Leonard Swigert, 3056 North Leavitt street, a friend of the girl, is also held, though he aided in her rescue.

Visits Riverview Park.

Lillian, who lives at 2748 Belmont avenue, went to Riverview Park with her chum, Frances Schultz, 1008 North Paulina street, Sunday night.

Hawk took the girl home, it is said. Palugradt drove up to the curb in a taxi just as Lillian was about to enter her home.

Hawk and Palugradt, it is charged, seized the girl and put her in the cab. It is said Swigert was in the cab and made no effort to prevent the kidnaping.

The young woman was attacked in a prairie near Crawford and Belmont avenues after a drug had been forced into her mouth.

Swigert, not interfering, nevertheless, drove away in the taxi to get help. When he returned the girl was gone. He notified Lillian's brother, George. A candy box was found at the doorway of the Bartz home. Candy was strewn along the street for several blocks.

Goes to Call Doctor.

Meantime Hawk and Palugradt had taken the girl to the home of Mrs. Lillian Schnede, 5935 North Maplewood avenue. It was represented to Mrs. Schnede that the girl had been hurt in an auto accident. Palugradt went out to call a doctor. He met John Carmody of 3156 Clybourn avenue. He told Carmody what had happened. Carmody told George Bartz.

Bartz, Swigert and other surrounded the Schnede residence and captured the two men.

TODAY DECIDES WHETHER LIGHT WORKERS STRIKE

Whether the city is to be thrown into darkness by a strike of 360 city electrical workers will be decided at 10 o'clock this morning, when representatives of the men will meet with the council finance committee for a "showdown."

Irwin ("Bosco") Knott, business agent of the electrical workers, declared last night the men will not weaken in their demand for an increase of $1 a day for all ranks. Thus far the subcommittee which has been dealing with the men has refused to grant the request for an extra dollar to the engineers, telegraph operators, day watchmen at the substations, and employes of the public service department.

IDENTIFICATION CARD NEEDED BY AUTOISTS TODAY

Every automobile owner who has not provided himself with an identification card is likely to be stopped today. Chief Fitzmorris yesterday ordered his men to enforce the city council ordinance.

A motion to enjoin the city from enforcing the ordinance, filed by Homer Jackson and Samuel Krause of the Illinois Automobile club, was continued for a week yesterday by Judge Sullivan. The judge said he would suggest that the chief defer action on the ordinance until this case is decided.

FARM AND GARDEN
By Frank Bigway

ANTS CAUSE GARDENERS WORRY.

Great damage is being done this summer by ants, according to reports from Michigan, Iowa, Indiana, Missouri, and various parts of Illinois. Complaints come from gardeners and lawnkeepers of Chicago, who say they have never seen gardens and lawns so badly infested.

Almost every year there are a few lawns and golf courses injured by ants, but this summer the outbreak seems to be general throughout the midwestern states. The ants are tunneling the ground and building mounds in flower and vegetable gardens, greenhouses, golf links, and lawns.

During the last few weeks they have been so numerous that many plants have been killed. Aster roots seem to be a favorite food. The ants tunnel into and suck the juice from the tender roots and thus seriously interfere with the growth of the plant. In some cases the pests have appeared in such large numbers that they have killed every flower in the bed. One gardener says his lawn and flower beds are infested and that each day some flowers, especially asters, wilt and die.

In a few cases the ants have caused slight damage on such plants as cabbage, peppers, eggplant, radishes, lettuce, and tomatoes. Where gardens were heavily infested many young vegetable plants have been killed. Honey is the chief form of nourishment for ants and apiarists have been forced to take extra precaution against them.

Ants are close coöperators with grubs and the plant louse family, which are found in practically every garden. Wingless working ants gather nectar, make it into honey, and feed it to the plant lice, and the lice in turn pass it on to the grub.

NEW HOT WAVE NEARS, BUT POET OFFERS COMFORT

Boost for More Rain, Is Day's Slogan.

The mercury is crawling toward the top of the thermometer again. Yesterday it touched the 88 mark.

The brief respite of cool weather granted during the last few days is over, according to the government forecasters, and the little dash of bearable temperature caused by a refreshing lake breeze is not to continue. Soon the tiny thread in the thermometer will linger in the nineties again, and that extra handkerchief will be in order as a perspiration dauber.

Longfellow said: "Into all lives some rain must fall." If it rains the temperature will drop. Therefore it must get cooler some time.

KIWANIS CLUBS SELECT OAK PARK MAN FOR BIG JOB

F. C. W. Parker of 115 North Kenilworth avenue, Oak Park, has been selected secretary of the Kiwanis Clubs of the World after a Kiwanis committee spent eight months in a hunt for the right man for the position. Mr. Parker is a member of the Oak Park school board. In 1912 he became a Y. M. C. A. vocational secretary, and later became executive secretary of Central branch of the "Y." He is vice president of the Vocational Education Association of the Middle West and a member of the Chicago City club and Association of Commerce.

TRICK GLASSES FOR PIER DRINKS CAUSE CITY QUIZ

"Children Pay 10 Cents for 50% Foam."

Use of "camouflage glasses" for refreshments at the Municipal pier and city beaches at the expense of Chicago's children will be made the subject of an investigation this week by the council H. C. of L. committee.

The pier concession has been farmed out by Deputy Commissioner of Public Works Burkhardt to the Chicago Concession and Catering company, in which James McGrath and Otto Weishelt, followers of Mayor Thompson, are heavily interested.

"At the pier these men are charging 10 cents for an ice cream cone," Ald. Sheldon W. Govier, chairman of the committee, said yesterday. "The ice cream is put in with the smallest dipper manufactured. It is about the size of a golf ball, and a child must break the cone to get at the ice cream, for the amount is so small it drops below the top level of the cone.

Tells of Trick Glasses.

"Another practice at the expense of Chicago children is the use of camouflage glasses, small at the bottom, where the root beer is placed, and large at the top, where there is plenty of froth. The glass of root beer, with 50 per cent of froth, sells for a dime at the pier.

"Our investigation thus far shows these concessionaires are making a net profit of 7 cents on cones and 'hot dog' sandwiches, and 7½ cents on root beer."

Five Cents Enough for Cones.

As more retailers yesterday joined the growing ranks of those selling sodas for 10 cents, Russell J. Poole, secretary of the H. C. of L. committee, issued a bulletin in which he gave the following data to show cones can be sold at 5 cents with a profit:

COST.

70 cones at $5 per thousand	$ .35
One gallon ice cream	1.20
Retailer's investment	$1.55

REVENUE.

70 cones at 5 cents each	$3.50

"This means that, after deducting the cost of the cones, the retailer has $1.95 with which to pay a war tax of 70 cents, leaving him a profit of $1.25," Mr. Poole says. "Anybody expecting a bigger revenue from children on such an investment is certainly the rankest kind of profiteer, in my estimation."

Name "Worst Offender."

The Miller pharmacy, 2058 Lincoln street, which charges 20 cents for a "small plain chocolate sundae," Mr. Poole characterized as "one of the worst offenders we have found."

"The firm is selling Cantrell & Cochrane's ginger ale as imported ginger ale," his bulletin declares. "It is not imported, but is bottled in New York. This pharmacy sells a bottle containing 9.6 ounces at the exorbitant price of 35 cents."

Representatives of Huyler's, 20 South Michigan avenue and 103 South La Salle street, refused to discuss their prices with Mr. Poole.

"We have more complaints against this place than any other in Chicago," said Mr. Poole. "I verified these complaints this morning. An investigator purchased a plain chocolate sundae at Huyler's Michigan avenue store for 35 cents. I am informed they are charging 22 cents for sodas in New York and 28 cents for ordinary sodas and 39 cents for sundaes here."

Bronx Curtails Prices.

New York, July 11.—[Special.]—Mrs. Louis Reed Welzmiller, deputy commissioner of markets, today obtained the consent of a committee representing the Bronx Confectioners' association to reduce the price of ice cream sodas from 15 to 10 cents, exclusive of the war tax. Sodas will now cost 11 cents, including tax.

CHILD, 3, KILLED BY AUTO; SECOND DIES OF INJURIES

Norman Porter, 3 years old, 6118 Princeton avenue, was struck and fatally injured by an automobile driven by Carl Olson, chauffeur for W. Robinson, 503 West 61st street, in front of 513 West 61st street yesterday. The child died on the way to St. Bernard's hospital.

Charles Yarzinski, 6, of 2314 West 47th place, died of injuries in the German Deaconess hospital of injuries suffered when he was struck by an automobile at West 47th place and South Western avenue Sunday night.

MEN ARE LIKE THAT

BY CLARA E. LAUGHLIN

SEEING LONDON.

It did all come about as they wanted it to. Sybil, Duchess of Wickhamshire, offered her house, and she and the bishop and the retired admiral agreed that Miss Baird's program might prove interesting to a considerable number of persons at a guinea a head, if sufficient stress were laid on the distinguished patronage under which the affair was to be held, and also on the worthy object which was to benefit through the proceeds. No one said anything about laying stress on Sallie as an attraction.

"You are unknown, my dear," the Countess of Stoke-Poges reminded her. "From their point of view the favor is all on their side. And they're quite right about it. They asked me your terms. I could see that they expected you not to have any. I told them that the program—your part of it, at any rate—would be my contribution. I want it to be that way. Don't shave your price a shilling for me; you mustn't begin that way. But don't mind because your check comes from me and not from them."

Sallie wanted to make her services a donation; but the countess would not hear of it.

"You gave them at dinner the other night, and that's enough," she said. "And, by the way, you recompensed my husband for having done his duty in staying home. He hates affairs of that sort, poor dear; but he liked talking with you and hearing you, he told me."

"I'm very glad," Sallie replied. "I was afraid of him—didn't know just what I could say to him or how he'd take it—but if I hadn't been like that, I'm sure I should have enjoyed him very much. Did he tell you I said he was like an earl out of a story book?"

"No! Did you say that to him? He must have been amused! He didn't tell me. They pick and choose what they pass on to us, husbands do! Some of it they keep to themselves quite jealously."

Sallie was obviously a bit embarrassed. She was not at all sure what the countess thought of her having said a thing like that to her husband.

But the countess, easily interpreting Sallie's flush and her look of uncertainty, smiled reassuringly.

"What a child you are!" she cried, maternally. "I wonder how long you can keep like that, if you stay over here. I had forgotten it could be done anywhere."

Her first formal appearance arranged for, Sallie was able to give herself over whole heartedly to the enchanting business of seeing London. And, thanks to the variety of persons to whom she had brought letters and the diversity of things to which they directed her attention, she was not long in beginning to realize how many Londons there are, all of them interesting.

There is the antiquarians' London, and the shrine worshipers' London, and the beauty lovers' London, and the garden London of green squares and many parks, of Kew, and Richmond and Hampton Court, and waterside London of inexhaustible charm and poetry; and teeming London of the East Side, and of Old Kent Road, and fashionable London, and imperial London, foreign London such as one finds in Soho, and so on, in endless variety.

Sallie loved them all. She delighted in prowling, in walking and looking and speculating, and trying to understand. And she found infinite charm in the talk she heard in places where she was asked to partake of hospitality. Now it was the modest little drawing room in a thoroughly middle class locality where a Russian princess served her with tea—while her superb looking father discoursed.

Again, it was an even smaller drawing room of an apartment in a great, barrackslike building, where an exquisite woman lived on with the memories of an idyllic wedded love, writing the story of her husband's life and work in the hope of illuminating much about his strange genius which had baffled the readers of three continents.

Then it was out of the roar of the Strand, into a narrow, crowded, business street not far from Charing Cross; and up several flights of uncovered stairs to a combination of workrooms and living rooms where three brilliant and widely known English women, doughty musketeers of the pen, wrote dramas and elaborated the plans for their production, and served tea to many sorts of interesting folk bent on the new art and the new drama, the new education and the new political economy.

Visits like these varied Sallie's excursions into Mayfair, her outdoor junketings, and her pilgrimages to shrines. During the first fortnight of this going about her mind was a jumble of impressions amongst which only one was such that she could describe it, and that was the feeling of being gorged. But after a time she began to digest, to assimilate, and even to know which fare fed her best. She found that she wanted to be alone a great deal. She liked to go to an interesting place the first time with an informed and appreciative person as her guide; and after that, to revisit it quite by herself many times. This was true not only of shrines like Westminster Abbey and St. Paul's and the sad little old church of St. Peter Ad Vincula hard by Tower Green, but also of outdoor London, its most trodden and its least trodden ways.

Millie enjoyed seeing the traditional sights once; after that her interest was almost solely in the shops and in social affairs. She had practically abandoned her old way of trying to take Sallie with her wherever she went; and Sallie had little difficulty about indulging her desire to wander in London alone.

A locality that deeply satisfied her in certain moods was the vicinity of Westminster Abbey: the Great and Little Cloisters, Little Dean's Yard, and the somnolent small streets thereabouts, drowsing undisturbed in their beauty, living, yet not alive, close to the teeming traffic of Victoria street or of Westminster bridge, and also as far from it, in effect, as one could get by half-girdling the globe.

She was making her way thither one morning, in a warm sunshine that was bringing the springtide high in the veins of everybody and every living thing, when she met the prince. He was, apparently, alone, and he seemed to be enjoying his freedom and his reflections.

Sallie did not recognize him until she was directly in his path and almost in front of him. She stood stock still for a second, not knowing just what she ought to do.

The prince seemed to take this for some sort of salutation—probably one that he was used to—and returned it courteously, impersonally, but with much of that genial good nature of his grandfather, who could make a wayfarer feel that his passing had been a pleasure to his king.

Sallie did not realize how impersonal it was. She thought the prince had recognized her.

"I—I came—you see," she faltered.

He smiled. Her accent told him something.

"And how do you like it?" he asked.

She tried to tell him.

"I'm going to do my little bit—about Uncle Sam's nephews and nieces, you know, at Wickhamshire House next Tuesday. It was so good of you to suggest that I might do it over here. Coming over has meant so much to me—it makes the world over for one, doesn't it?"

"Yes," he agreed, "travel does. I'm going off on another long jaunt soon."

"I heard about it," she replied.

He turned back, when she told him whither she was bound, and walked with her, telling her interesting things about Broad Sanctuary where that other Edward, Prince of Wales, was born, who was smothered in the Tower; and about the Countess of Richmond's dole, still given on Saturday mornings at the porter's gate of Westminster, to "forty poor widows"; and about the many famous men who had been Westminster School boys; and so on.

Sallie soon lost her self-consciousness, and her quiet humor began to glint in her girlish talk. The prince's sense of humor, she soon discovered, was of the same sort as her own. Doubtless there was more sophistication back of it, but there seemed to be no hardness, no cynicism, no suspicion.

"I shall be there to hear you do it," he said, as he left her, to resume his interrupted way.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Question.

Where Asked.

The Answers.

J. P. Duschane, 1405 West 51st street, salesman—I am sure there will be peace in Ireland. They are entitled to be free, as are all other small countries. Why not give them peace? The situation over there is a disgrace to civilization.

Mrs. J. Freeland, 713 North Clark street, housewife—Sure there will be peace. If they give the poor Irish a chance and let them show that they can run the country themselves, I am sure the conferences now going on will bring peace.

G. E. Bouta, Galva, Ill., traffic manager—I think there will be some kind of a settlement, although I do not think peace will last long. I don't think that England will grant Ireland all it asks. But they ought to settle it in some way, so the fighting will stop.

Mrs. Margaret Rich, 709 North Clark street, café owner—The people of Ireland are as able to govern themselves as any of the other small countries. England should give them a free hand and let them show the world what they can do. They are entitled to home rule.

S. R. Manley, 1251 North Dearborn street, clerk—Peace is in sight. It is bound to come, but they cannot settle all the matters in dispute overnight. They take time. Things cannot go along much longer the way they have over there during the last few years.

1,500 Workers Protest Abandoning Kinzie Station

Fourteen hundred employés of three big factories in the vicinity of Kinzie and Wells streets have petitioned the Illinois commerce commission to prevent the Northwestern elevated from abandoning the Kinzie street station in favor of the new one at Grand avenue and Franklin street. The hearing will be held July 15.

MAYOR REPLACES HARRISON TABLET ON PIER WITH OWN

Implies He's Its Builder, and Not Predecessor.

If Mayor Thompson's friends can accomplish it, the hundreds of thousands who visit the Municipal pier during the Pageant of Progress exposition will leave with the impression that credit for its construction should go to "Big Bill."

Yesterday laborers working on orders from Commissioner of Public Works Francis took down the bronze tablet bearing the name of former Mayor Harrison, under whose régime all preliminary work and the greater part of actual construction was done, and substituted another tablet bearing the name of William Hale Thompson in large raised letters.

Pet Project of Harrison.

Construction of the huge pier at a cost of $3,400,000, extending 3,000 feet into the lake at Grand avenue, was one of the pet projects of former Mayor Harrison.

On Feb. 7, 1912, the harbor and subway commission, composed of John Ericson, J. J. Reynolds, and E. C. Shankland, and appointed by Mayor Harrison, recommended the construction of the pier.

At the election of April 3, 1912, Mayor Harrison carried the question of constructing the pier to the voters, who approved an issue of $5,000,000 worth of bonds for harbor and pier construction work.

Change Law to Remove Obstacle.

It was found, however, that the O'Connor harbor act contained provisions militating against acquisition of lake shore rights by the city. Mayor Harrison and his friends again jumped into the breach and the O'Connor act was reënacted in amended form in June of 1913.

In August of the same year the shore rights for the construction of the pier were acquired at a cost of $300,000. Contracts were let and work actually began in March, 1914. Almost all the construction work was completed when Mayor Thompson took office in the spring of 1915, though finishing touches were added throughout the summer, the big job being completed in the fall of that year.

But "Big Bill's" Name Goes Up.

MAYOR
William Hale Thompson
HARBOR BOARD
Frank I. Bennett,
Chairman
William R. Burkhardt,
Vice Chairman
Eugene R. Pike
John E. Ericson
James J. McComb
George F. Iliff
Harry E. Littler
H. V. McGurren,
Secretary

Of these, John Ericson, former city engineer, and Ald. Littler performed important duties in connection with the building of the pier. They were members of the commission appointed by former Mayor Harrison. Other members were Messrs. Reynolds, Shankland, John E. Traeger, Michael Zimmer, and W. O. Johnson.

2 AIDING DYING MAN ARE HELD AS THIEF SUSPECTS

Ordinan was found lying on a sidewalk in front of 1543 Hudson avenue. Peter Kane and Margaret Fitzpatrick of 1532 Hudson avenue and Frank Clark of 2026 Clifton avenue put him in a cab and rushed for a doctor. They stopped in at a police station. The ambulance surgeon was out, but the police took the party to a hospital. Ordinan died before the hospital was reached.

The police held the three, saying the man might have been drugged or poisoned. It developed the man was tubercular and had suffered a hemorrhage. The woman was released, but the men were held "for investigation in connection with several burglaries."

Tries Twice to End His Life, but He Still Lives

Stephen Paul, 48 years old, 3958 Ferdinand street, made two attempts to end his life last night. He is now being guarded in a cell at the Austin police station. When neighbors heard a shot in his room early in the evening they called the police, who found Paul lying on the floor with a slight scalp wound, a revolver beside him. He was taken to the Austin station, where he cut his wrist with a broken bottle.

Man Killed, Two Chicago Girls and Woman Injured

Marinette, Wis., July 11.—Abe Goodman, Marinette business man, was killed and Mrs. Ike Goodman and her two daughters, Evelyn and Myrtle of Chicago, were seriously injured, when Goodman's automobile turned turtle on the bay shore road near here yesterday. Goodman's baby daughter was riding on her father's lap, but escaped injury when she was thrown from the car by Mr. Goodman.

SPECIAL TRAINS POUR REALTORS INTO CHICAGO

DON'T FORGET

Visiting realtors are reminded that Chicago is living by daylight saving time and not by the sun. So the first thing to do, if you intend to follow the schedule, is to set your watch one hour ahead. Otherwise you'll be sixty minutes behind the convention. All railroads use central or standard time for their through trains and daylight saving time for their suburban service.

BY AL CHASE.

Several thousand realtors climbed off special trains yesterday and right away Chicagoans who haven't been reading the papers realized that the National Association of Real Estate Boards is to hold a convention here. Real estate dealers from El Paso ambled through the loop wearing enormous sombreros and 4x8 inch miniature Navajo blankets as badges. Both men and women from Chattanooga, Tenn., let the world know they were from Dixie by carrying gayly colored sun shades. Other city delegations showed no hesitation in showing where they hailed from.

EDWARD S. JUDD. [Koehne Photo.]

The largest special train load was "The Interstate," which came in at noon over the Northwestern from the far west with its twelve Pullmans filled with 240 realtors and their families. There were citizens of Washington, Idaho, and Montana aboard. Other specials pulled in from Philadelphia, Detroit, Cleveland, and other cities.

FRED E. TAYLOR.

Although the convention formally opens today, the hotel lobbies, the Chicago Real Estate board rooms, and the convention headquarters in the theater lobby of the Auditorium were crowded most of yesterday with realtors registering and getting acquainted.

The first formal preliminary event was a dinner given by the Chicago Real Estate board last night at the board rooms to the national association officials and presidents of affiliated boards.

Last evening, following the board dinner, the women of the Chicago Real Estate board held an informal reception for visiting ladies at the Congress hotel. At the same time a jazz band and several vaudeville acts entertained the husbands at a stag get-acquainted smoker in the Auditorium hotel.

Big Show Opens Today.

The big realty convention will open its four day program this morning with the singing of realtor songs led by Hyde W. Perce, at 9:45. Edward S. Judd of Chicago, known as the father of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, and a former president of ti, will officially welcome the visitors, although President L. M. Smith of the local board also will speak a few words of welcome. Of course the mayor is down for an address of welcome, but unless the entirely unexpected and unusual happens, some representative will speak for him.

Fred E. Taylor of Portland, Ore., president of the national association, will reply to the various addresses of welcome and make his annual report. The principal speakers of the day and the time they speak are as follows: 2 p. m., Frank Branch Riley on "Selling America to Americans"; 3 p. m., John S. Hord on "The Sales Tax"; 4 p. m., A. J. Kelly Jr., on "The National Legislative Committee."

There will be a lake trip this evening, followed by a moonlight informal reception on the Municipal pier in honor of President and Mrs. Taylor and the other officers of the national association and their wives.

CHANGE IN CORN STANDARDS.

A change in the size of the screens used for determining foreign material and cracked corn is made effective Oct. 3, 1921. After that date 12-64ths of an inch screens are to be used, instead of 14-64ths of an inch, as at present. The larger sized screens permitted too many small kernels and too much cracked corn to pass as foreign material. The change is made by the department of agriculture.

Public Confidence in Good Gasoline Service Is Fully Justified

FOR SOME TIME PAST, subtle propaganda has appeared in newspapers which has, (possibly contrary to the intentions of those responsible for it), frankly questioned the honesty of gasoline merchants and, at the same time, discredited the intelligence of the average buyer of gasoline.

The sum and substance of this propaganda is based on the old theory (long since exploded) that one must see what one buys not to be cheated.

It is no more necessary to see gasoline when it is purchased than to see the contents of a can labeled "tomatoes." The only satisfactory basis for buying is confidence in the seller.

If oil and gasoline merchants were dishonest, it would be our recommendation that the public insist upon being served with gasoline from a TIN MEASURE—and closely watch the operator fill it and empty the contents into the automobile reservoir.

BUT THESE MEN ARE NOT DISHONEST

From our experience, during thirty-five years of close contact with oil and gasoline merchants, we know them as a class—KNOW they desire to be fair, and that their success, like the success of any other business, has been built upon their honest dealing and good service to the public.

Good SERVICE is really what the public demands. It embraces many qualifications, chief among which are Accuracy in Measuring the desired quantity of Gasoline, Safety from Possible Explosion, Economy of Time and Separation of any condensed moisture or foreign matter from the gasoline.

FOREIGN TRADE IS STILL ACTIVE, U. S. DATA SHOWS

BY O. A. MATHER.

That the foreign trade of the United States is not only in no immediate danger of collapse but bids fair to remain strong and remunerative for the time is an inference that may be drawn from figures issued yesterday by the department of commerce covering June and the fiscal year ended June 30.

For the fiscal year our foreign trade fell far more than $3,000,000,000, but this slump was about equally divided between exports and imports. Exports were from 1919-'20, while imports were $3,666,-000,000, a decline of $1,572,000,000. Thus the favorable balance of trade for the fiscal year just ended was $2,852,000,000, or only about $20,000,000 less than in the preceding period. The general decline in trade is in part accounted for by the heavy drop in commodity prices. In some commodities about half the decline was due to price recessions and half to actual decrease in volume.

June Exports Show Increase.

While lower than in the preceding year, exports were greater than in the 1918-'19 and 1917-'18 periods, the respective figures being $5,919,000,000 and $6,290,000,000. Imports for the current fiscal period were greater than any year since 1917 with the exception of 1920.

The June figures also are encouraging, exports showing an increase over May of about $11,000,000. This is not large, but is at least a change in the trend, being the first increase to be recorded since last December. The June total of $340,000,000, however, is only a little more than half of the June, 1920, exports. Again the recession in prices is largely the cause. June imports of $198,000,000 were about $6,000,-000 less than in May, but about $354,-000,000 under June, 1920. The increase in exports and coincidental decline in imports gives a favorable trade balance for June of $142,000,000, the largest since last February, when the excess of exports was $176,000,000.

Gold imports for the fiscal year aggregated $646,000,000, compared with $150,-000,000 the previous year, while exports totaled $133,000,000, against $466,000,000.

Foreign Shareholders Decrease.

An illustration of the extent to which foreign owned American securities have been restored to American ownership as a result of the war is given in the annual report of the New York Central railroad for the year ended Dec. 31, 1920, which will be made public today.

In 1915 the company had 2,772 foreign stockholders holding $17,740,800 par value of stock, whereas at the end of last year there were only 223 such shareholders, holding only $1,421,500 par value of stock. In 1915 there were 22,270 American shareholders holding $231,-60,800 par value of stock, while at the end of last year there were 32,173 such shareholders holding $247,732,100 par value of stock.

The average holding of foreign shareholders was 64 shares in both 1915 and 1920, but the average holding of American stockholders declined from 104 shares in 1915 to 77 shares in 1920.

N. Y. C. 1920 Earnings Decline.

The earnings of the New York Central in 1920 show a rather sharp decline from the preceding year, net corporate income being $13,734,688, equivalent to approximately 5½ per cent on the $249,597,355 capital stock outstanding, compared with net corporate income of $19,917,250, or about 7.9 per cent on the same capital stock, in 1919.

"The substantial increases in pay and the changes in working conditions during and since federal control have created a situation which is giving the company grave concern," the report says. "The abolition of piece work in the shops has cost millions of dollars. The cost of the work in 1915 was $2,903,700 and $8,352,000 in 1920. There was an increase in men of 60.3 per cent, an increase in money of 187 per cent and an increase in effective mileage output of only 2 per cent. The total amount of pay roll charged to operating expense in 1917 was $83,053,280, while in 1920 it was $177,-289,639. The entire operating expenses for 1917 were $153,597,905, or $23,691,736 less than the 1920 pay roll included in operating expenses."

Receipts of cattle at 13,000 were short of trade requirements, resulting in a general advance of 25c, compared with last week's close. Some urgent local and outside orders went over unfilled. Best yearlings, averaging 822 lbs, sold at $9.10, and 1,213 lbs average at $8.90. Butcher stock and feeding cattle shared in the advance.

Closing hog trade was topheavy, with 17,000 estimated as left in the pens, mostly in possession of speculators. Opening sales were at 15@25c advance, but some of the packers refused to follow the advance, the Armour houses remaining out of the trade. The day's top at $10.15 stood the highest since April 5, with the general average at $9.45, the highest since March.

Western Lambs at $11.75.

There was little change in sheep and lamb values. Buyers tried to force the market lower on more liberal receipts, but were unsuccessful. Western lambs topped at $11.75, last week's high point. Idaho aged wethers made $6.50. Some 90 lb feeding ewes sold at $2.25.

Seven western markets received 38,000 cattle, 89,000 hogs, and 37,000 sheep, against 53,000 cattle, 95,000 hogs, and 47,000 sheep the corresponding Monday a year ago and 72,000 cattle, 117,000 hogs, and 54,000 sheep two years ago.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 6,000 cattle, 27,000 hogs, and 13,000 sheep, against 10,870 cattle, 33,276 hogs, and 12,533 sheep corresponding Tuesday a year ago.

RUMORS "NAILED" BY AJAX RUBBER AND HARVESTER

Yesterday was a day of rumors inspired for stock market purposes in Wall and La Salle streets. The two principal rumors, both of which were quickly "nailed," concerned purported new financing by the International Harvester company and the Ajax Rubber company.

"Officials of the company do not contemplate any financing," said George A. Ranney, treasurer of the International Harvester company. "The rumor presumably emanates from speculators. It has been circulated for months, although it is absolutely untrue and has been repeatedly denied. The only discussion regarding refinancing has been to decline voluntary offers received from bond houses that wished to market the company's securities."

The Ajax Rubber company is in no need of additional funds and no new financing is imminent, Horace de Lisser, chairman of the board, stated. Operations are improving and the outlook now is better than for some months.

There Are Other Things to a Bond Besides Principal and Interest

SUPPLEMENTING the fundamental consideration of protection to principal and surety of return are other factors of a secondary or more intimate concern:

Maturities, interest dates, tax exemption features, conversion privileges, marketability, terms of call, sinking fund clauses—are all of consequence in the most profitable disposition of private or corporate funds.

An intelligent perspective in the proper accommodations of such a diversity of elements plays its part in shaping our judgment of security values.

When Sales Decrease—

"The lower the sales, the higher the percentage of credit loss." This is a fundamental business principle which far-sighted manufacturers and wholesalers in every line are realizing more strongly every day.

That is why so many of these firms are safeguarding their credit resources with the American's Policy of Credit Insurance, which guarantees to prevent, else pay, bad debt losses beyond the normal.

In times like these, money invested in the American's Policy is the wisest money you can invest. You cannot afford not to have it. Write or phone today for the full particulars of this broad protective service.

BULLISH WHEAT NEWS OFFSET BY LACK OF BUYING

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

An abundance of bullish crop news on wheat from the northwest was offset by a scarcity of buying orders yesterday and bulges failed to hold in their entirety, the finish being ⅛c higher to ¼c lower, with September the weakest. Corn and oats were easy at times, but were helped by wheat at the last and closed with gains of ½@⅝c on corn and unchanged to ⅝c higher on oats, while rye gained ⅛@¼c.

Temperatures for the northwestern spring wheat country were the highest for this season, with 108 degrees at Bismarck, N. D. Crop reports from that country were the worst so far. Conservative people there wired that the real situation was not fully comprehended by the public and predicted when realization came there would be an awakening by the trade in general. Reports from thrashing in the winter wheat country were mixed. In Kansas, Oklahoma, and at a few points in Illinois they were better than had been expected. In the southwest wheat is being hauled from thrashers to loading stations and moved to Kansas City and the gulf as fast as possible. Santa Fe railroad loadings last week were 3,604 cars of all grains, mostly wheat, the largest so far this season. Kansas City had 728 cars, against 261 last year, and with Omaha and St. Louis the three points had 1,254 cars, against 441 last year. Chicago had 20 cars.

Break After Rally.

There was enough bullish news to have sent prices materially higher instead of an advance of 2c from Saturday's close, with the lowest after the bulge—$1.17½ for July, while September was down to $1.16⅝, or 3¼c under the top, and December off to $1.19¾, with the finish on all deliveries 1¼@1½c over the inside figures. A number of local buyers made the bulge. After they were through buying prices dropped from lack of support, causing a discouraged feeling among the trade in general. A little export buying was on, with 200,000 bu at the seaboard.

While spring wheats in Minneapolis were stronger and 2c higher, winter wheat markets were 1@5c lower, Kansas City leading. Cash premiums here were ½@¾c lower, with No. 1 hard at 1@1½c over and red ½@1c over. Chicago stocks and the visible made a small increase.

Corn crop reports were mixed. Indiana bulletins told of the high condition and moisture is needed. The crop in Oklahoma is practically made, and four weeks more of good weather will see the crop in Kansas and southern Illinois about made. For the present a large part of the crop is in the critical stage where moisture and moderate temperatures are necessary for its safety. Commission house and local selling was sufficient to make a break early. Buying was scattered, but enough appeared to take the offerings and make an advance of ⅛@⅞c from the inside at the last, with July at 61⅝c and September at 59⅛@59⅝c, with December at 59⅛@59¾c.

In oats it was the same story for several weeks past—bad crop reports and poor buying support. December showed the most strength. Trading was light and local. Cash lots were 1c lower at the last, with shipping sales 160,000 bu. Arrivals were 157 cars. Local stocks and the visible increased.

New Rye Arrives.

Two cars of new rye reached Chicago. One from Iowa sold at $1.18 and one from Illinois brought $1.19. Both graded No. 2. Last year first arrivals were on July. 26 and sold at $2.14½@2.16.

Provisions were firmer, with lighter offerings and fair buying. Exports were larger. At the finish lard was 17½@20c and ribs 2½@10c higher. Prices follow:

SUPERIOR STEEL CORPORATION

July 6, 1921.

At the regular meeting of the Directors of the Superior Steel Corporation a quarterly dividend of 2% was declared on the First Preferred Stock, payable August 15, 1921, to stockholders of record August 1, 1921.

CASH-GRAIN NEWS

Weakness in foreign exchange is greatly hampering export business in grains. Sales at the seaboard Monday were reported at 200,000 bu, corn 100,000 bu, with a little rye. Weakness in exchange was believed to be due to buying of dollars by Germany.

Domestic shipping sales at Chicago were 11,000 bu wheat, 84,000 bu corn, and 160,000 bu oats. Deliveries were 40,000 bu corn, and 20,000 bu oats. Sales of 25,000 bu wheat were made to go to store.

Premiums on hard winter at Chicago dropped 1@2c, with the bulk of the No. 1 hard sold at 1@1½c over and No. 2 hard at July price to 1c over, while red was unchanged to ½c lower, with No. 2 sold at July price to ½c under.

While premiums at Minneapolis were 2@5c higher, with dark hard spring sold at 65c over the July, southwestern markets were weak, with Omaha 1@3c lower, St. Louis red winter was unchanged to 1c lower, and hard 2@3c lower, while at Kansas City ordinary hard was 1@2c lower; dark hard unchanged to 3c lower and red 1@3c lower.

Cash corn was ½@1c higher early, but lost the advance later with the basis easier, as compared with the July. No. 2 yellow and white bringing ½c under. Outside markets were generally easier, with prices 2½c lower to 1c higher.

Demand for cash oats was somewhat less urgent, with No. 2 white at July price to ¼c under. Sample values were about unchanged at the last.

NEWS OF THE CROPS

Corn maintains its high condition in Illinois and Indiana as shown by the weekly state and government reports. The Indiana crop has reached a very critical stage in most localities, and unless general rains occur in a few days much of it will be seriously damaged. Thrashing of winter wheat is well under way in both states, with yields very disappointing. Spring wheat deteriorated in both states. Yields of rye smaller than expected, with some in Indiana that will not be cut. Yields of oats expected to be low.

Black rust is being found in northern Minnesota, within fifty miles of the Canadian line, and in North Dakota. J. E. Bennett & Co.'s Minneapolis office wired that forty fields examined in southern North Dakota showed black rust damage, with estimated yields of 6 to 8 bu per acre. The rust reports from northern Minnesota and northern North Dakota come from the sections that escaped the intense heat, and the crop is still two to four weeks from harvest.

R. O. Cromwell wired E. W. Wagner & Co. from Grand Forks, N. D.: "Because of rains July 2, followed by alternative cloudy and hot, stem rust has appeared to a damaging extent in the Devils Lake and Grand Forks territory. Situation quite serious. In forty mile circuit at Grand Forks all margins show rust and only a few of the earliest pieces will escape some damage. Average field may run 10 to 20 per cent. Rust broke out mainly July 8 to 9. Durum may escape. Crop from Devils Lake to Grand Forks better than last year. Latter territory looks 13 bu per acre, rust considered."

Further reports of black rust are received from the Canadian northwest. Samples of rusted wheat received at Winnipeg showed that the infection was spreading rapidly.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Trade sentiment was moderately bearish last night owing to the small response of wheat values to the unfavorable crop news from the northwest. Country offerings of wheat were liberal, although held to prices above the market. One house sent out bids last night of 1c under July for shipment by July 15 and 2c under for August-September shipment, No. 2 hard or red. It offered to accept all offerings. Crop news keeps many professionals bullish.

The country is not offering as much corn as of late, and it is not expected the movement will be heavy, while the movements of wheat and oats are to increase. There is enough grain coming to supply ordinary requirements. A few cars of oats received yesterday showed a light mixture of new with the old and more are expected.

Increased efficiency is being shown by the new forces at the grain elevators. One house unloaded 50 cars yesterday. A member of the employers' committee says there are increased numbers of applicants for work, and former service men are being given preference. At the way the forces are working, he says, the elevators expect to be operating at 100 per cent by the end of the week.

Arrangements are being made to create storage room in private elevators. A large lot of corn is to be moved out. Charters were made late yesterday for 250,000 bu to Buffalo.

Several million bushels of grain are held on side tracks here, awaiting unloading, which is creating an uncomfortable situation for receivers unable to make returns for cars sold, but not unloaded.

Contract stocks of wheat in public elevators in Chicago Saturday night were 113,000 bu, corn 6,006,000 bu and oats 5,703,000 bu. For the week wheat increased 1,000 bu, corn decreased 624,000 bu, and oats 83,000 bu.

Canadian courts have held that the grain inquiry commission is illegal and contrary to the British North American act and have restrained the commission from further hearings.

Chicago is the highest corn market in the west. July here closed yesterday at 61⅝c, against 48c in Kansas City, and 56c in St. Louis.

Reports of chinch bug damage to corn are increasing from Missouri, Michigan and Ohio.

Reports of corn beginning to fire were received from Illinois and Indiana points yesterday, due to dry and continued hot weather. Some fired tassels were found between Champaign, Ill., and Kingman, Ind.

The former has issued 118,802 shares of common stock and 49,869 shares of preferred, both of a stated par value of $1. It has no funded debt. The Pond Creek company has issued 212,920 one class shares of $10 par and has a bonded debt of $767,500. It is paying quarterly dividends of 37½ cents a share. Island Creek has just increased its quarterly dividends on common stock from $1 to $2 a share. It earned $18.37 a share in 1920. Pond Creek earned $2.82 a share in 1920. Earnings of both are subject to wide fluctuations.

New York Central.

H. V. R.—The New York Central has been paying dividends at the rate of 5 per cent annually for a decade or more. Last year it fell far short of earning the dividend, but government compensation was sufficient to pay it and leave a good margin. In the early months of this year some improvement in earnings was shown and in the June quarter the dividend was earned with a fair margin. The future depends on future net earnings.

Brief Answers.

E. A.—An equipment trust of one of the stronger railways will meet your requirements in every way. They mature serially and are paid out of earnings. If the road goes into bankruptcy the receiver pays them before any other bonds. They can be had at prices to make their yield from 6½ to 7 per cent.

C. D. C.—Morris & Co. first mortgage bonds are a high grade investment. They are listed on the New York exchange, but only occasional sales are made. A bond sold on May 21 at 75.

YOU INSURE AGAINST FIRES—
WHY NOT AGAINST FAILURES?

YOU would not think of going without insurance against fire for your factory or office. Yet, when a debtor fails, the dollar you lose that way, is just as much a loss, as the dollar you might lose by fire, when unprotected.

Statistics show that losses from bad debts for five years prior to the war were largely in excess of fire losses paid in the same period.

When you carry "LONDON" Credit Insurance you always know exactly where you stand. You can't lose. Your excess losses are paid by us forty-five days after any insured account fails. That's not a collection agency hope—it's a guarantee in advance.

And "LONDON" Credit Insurance costs less than you think. We can write a policy to exactly fit your case.

LASKER TELLS OF SHIPPING BOARD REORGANIZATION

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., July 11.—[Special.]—The plan of reorganization of the United States shipping board and Emergency Fleet corporation, adopted by the board and approved in detail by President Harding, was announced tonight by A. D. Lasker, chairman of the board.

Under the plan there will be five vice presidents of the Emergency Fleet corporation, three of whom will be in charge of operations, one the chief counsel, and one in charge of sale of ships and salvage of materials.

The three vice presidents in charge of operations will be J. Barston Smull, ship broker of New York; William J. Love, shipping representative of New York; and A. J. Frey, ship operator of Los Angeles.

How Men May Work.

No definite assignment of duties has been made, but it was indicated Mr. Smull probably would have charge of allocations and charters, Mr. Love traffic, and Mr. Frey physical operations.

The salaries of the three vice presidents in charge of operations will aggregate $95,000 a year. Chairman Lasker indicated the amount would be divided practically equally among the three men, but would not state the exact salary of each.

The prime object of the corporation, under the policy to be followed, Mr. Lasker said, will be to operate the fleet as to make possible private operation as soon as possible, consistent with good business.

No Needless Competition.

Government ship lines will not be operating in competition with private lines where there is business only for one line, he said.

Elmer Schlesinger, chief counsel for the board, will serve as a vice president. The fifth vice president has not been selected.

"We are going to operate the ships by calling back into being the Emergency Fleet corporation," Chairman Lasker said. "Under the Jones act we have the fullest authority so to do."

FARMERS TELL WHAT'S WRONG IN THEIR BUSINESS

What is wrong with agriculture? Answers to this question when they began pouring into the American Farm Bureau federation offices here last night indicated that farmers agree that conditions in this country could be greatly improved by lowering freight rates, levying tariffs on foreign products, and marketing farm products cooperatively.

Farmers from 1,600 counties, representing forty-seven states, were called into small local groups yesterday and asked various questions about the business. This was done to ascertain directly from the man on the farm his idea of what is wrong with his business, hoping that this information will be of value to the joint agricultural commission at Washington.

Clyde Stewart of Midland, Mich., said: "It cost a dealer more to ship my hay to Detroit than he paid me for the hay."

Nebraska farmers say that freight rates are not in harmony with the price they are getting for their products. A farmer near Weeping Water, Neb., says he gets only 42 cents for his corn and pays 17.8 cents a hundred to ship it from his town to Kansas City, while in 1917 he only paid 9 cents a hundred.

STATE TO SELECT BUILDING INQUIRY SLEUTH TODAY

The Dailey commission today will select a chief for the corps of special investigators it has set on the trail of building material manufacturers and dealers who are declared largely responsible for high building costs in Chicago.

While the appointment has not been officially confirmed, William H. Cody, formerly a federal investigator and operative for the Burns Detective agency, probably will be retained, Joseph B. Fleming, attorney for the commission, said last night.

The Dailey commission will meet today to dispose of what Mr. Fleming styled "odds and ends" in connection with graft charges against various union business agents alleged to have extorted money to prevent strikes on building jobs.

Mr. Fleming said the commission is investigating charges that several Chicago bank officials and mortgage loan men have been guilty of usury. It alleged some have charged as much as 27 per cent interest on loans to home builders, resorting to various subterfuges to evade the law.

The building trades wage and working rules controversy progressed another step toward peace yesterday when Judge Landis, arbitrator, called representatives of the Building Construction Employers' association, the Associated Builders, and two cement organizations into conference. He objected to certain clauses of their proposed agreement and insisted they be stricken out. This probably will be done, it was said.

FINANCIAL NOTES

The Portage Rubber company of Barberton, O., which was thrown into receivership May 31, has listed schedules in bankruptcy showing liabilities of $5,548,993 and assets of $5,074,337. The schedules are filed by M. S. Long, president. J. W. McGuire and George D. Bates of Akron are receivers for the company.

While resistance to further price declines has lately developed in some quarters, the general trend continues downward, forty-two recessions and twenty-five advances appearing last week in the list of wholesale quotations compiled by Dun's Review.

The American Petroleum institute estimates that the daily average gross crude oil production in the United States for the week ended July 2 was 1,315,930 brls, as compared with 1,316,480 brls for the preceding week, a decrease of 530 brls.

The United Drug company yesterday filed a certificate with the commissioner of Massachusetts showing an increase in the common stock from $35,000,000 to $55,000,000.

RAILROAD NOTES

A petition asking for the issuance of interchangeable mileage books at a 20 per cent discount, signed by more than 1,000 of the biggest business men in the middle west, was presented yesterday to the Western Passenger association by Franklin H. Dietz, representing the Interstate Commercial Travelers. The petition, which was in the form of a brief argument, was received by E. E. MacLeod, chariman of the association, and is to be given consideration by a committee for recommendation to the railroads and other passenger associations.

Additional tentative valuations of railroads announced by the interstate commerce commission included Sumpter Valley Railway company (Oregon), $1,829,745; the Minneapolis and Rainy River railroad (Minnesota), $1,250,000; the Woodstock railway (Vermont), $489,213. The Chicago, Terre Haute and Southeastern Railway company has protested against the tentative valuation of its property at $20,502,223, alleging that it should be placed at not less than $30,000,000.

Increased demand for freight cars reduced the surplus on June 30 to 373,791, about 4,000 less than on June 23, according to figures made public by the American Railway association. Surplus coal cars amounted to 162,537, or 1,445 fewer than the excess of June 23. The Canada Railway association is preparing for distribution of grain cars west of the lakes. Forty thousand cars are assembled for this purpose.

THE TIRE BUSINESS IS BOOMING

An Income of $250 Weekly Is Ordinary.

Tires Are Wearing Out by the Million Every Day.

The greater percentage of car owners today cannot afford to buy a new tire every time they have a blowout. Therefore thousands are being made in the Tire Repair and Rebuilding Business.

We are also in touch with all of the renting agencies in Chicago and vicinity and can refer you to many choice tire shop locations.

MACHINE MANUFACTURING PLANT,

Normally employing about 600 men, located in new modern fireproof factory, large shops and fully equipped machine shops, all co-ordinated under one ownership and management, is exceptionally well adapted to medium and heavy machinery (castings up to 30 tons), with ample erecting and assembling floors, trunk line railroad siding alongside plant with loading cranes directly to cars; low weight scale, non-union district, labor conditions very good. The business has been established for 65 years and under present conservative management for over 40 years. Building is A-A-1-; physical responsibility about $2,000,000; no debts, no bond issues; credit standing the best.

The plant is now practically idle for want of orders and the making of the business heretofore handled is such that no return of activity is probable under two or three years.

We seek a purchaser who will manufacture of offering is such that we can see a definite market for the product, if the nature of the work is such as to lend itself to economical manufacture in all parts, and volume is such as to be an incentive to it. We would seriously consider an arrangement to take over a large volume of business on a mutually satisfactory basis. May arrange to finance meritorious offering. Write or call on phone

Prices Reduced

When Bird-Sykes says "rebuilt Paige" they do not mean merely "shined up," "tightened up" and "tuned up." Rebuilt in the Bird-Sykes shop means taking apart motor, transmission, and rear axle—measuring or testing parts to determine wear — replacing worn parts with new—rebuilding—adjusting—tuning up—refinishing body — refinishing top and upholstery. That is why a Bird-Sykes rebuilt Paige satisfies the eye as a new car and its performance is the same as new.

Guaranteed by Bird-Sykes.

Every rebuilt Paige is guaranteed by Bird-Sykes to be as represented and in perfect mechanical condition, and if anything turns out unsatisfactory within a reasonable time Bird-Sykes make it good without cost to the purchaser.

Easy Terms—No Brokerage Charge.

We do not ask our customers to pay the exorbitant rates charged by so-called automobile bankers in order to buy of us on deferred payments. You can buy a Bird-Sykes Rebuilt Paige on easy terms, paying only ordinary bank interest rates on deferred payments.
